Labor Secretary Mitchell's Statistics:

Steel Wages, Profits Show Steady Climb

Report Hailed By Both Sides

...U.S. Draws No Conclusions

Washington (AP)—The government turned loose a mass of figures Wednesday to show that in the strike-closed steel industry wages, prices and profits have been going up for years.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell made the statistics public at the direction of President Eisenhower in the hope this would lead the striking steelworkers union and the steel companies to bargain for a settlement.

Mitchell

But Mitchell refused to say a word about what he thought either side should do in the way of give-and-take.

"There are no conclusions drawn (from the figures)," he said. "The responsibility for a settlement of the strike rests upon management and labor."

Public Has An Interest

He did point out the public has an interest in the strike, which has been going on for 36 days, costing each week 300 million dollars worth of production and 70 million dollars in wages.

Both management and labor hailed the report as supporting their arguments in the dispute.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the steel industry, said Mitchell's report shows steel wages have put steelworkers "at the top of the list."

In a statement, Cooper also said increases in employment costs have exceeded increases in output per man hour, thereby forcing up steel prices.

He called the increase of output per man hour lower in steel than in the national economy as a whole, and said competition from foreign steel producers with lower employments costs has been increasing. Cooper continued:

"It shows also that steel profits as a return on investment have consistently lagged behind those in other industries — even before taking account of the necessity for making up large deficiencies in depreciation allowances."

McDonald's Comment

In New York, United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said of Mitchell's report:

"The report presents a positive contribution to acquaint the American people with the facts of the tremendous productivity record achieved in the steel industry and the overwhelming ability of the steel industry to share a portion of such gains with the public, industry workers and stockholders of the industry.

"It documents the soundness and equity of the position of steelworkers union in the controversy with the steel industry."

Negotiations continued to drag along with no progress reported toward solving the deadlock.

Mitchell presided over a news conference in the gold and green conference room of the interdepartmental auditorium. But he gave few concrete answers to the several hundred newsmen poring over the collection of figures, charts and textual matter.

No Emergency Yet

He did say, in reply to a question as to when a national emergency might result from the strike, that this could occur by the latter part of September or early October.

Philip Arnow, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, discussed the charts with the aid of lantern slides and a flashlight indicator.

Some of the main things displayed, or explained:

Wages—"Gross hourly earnings in steel rose $1.42, or by 85%, from January 1950 to May 1959 . . . real hourly earnings rose by 50 per cent.

"From January 1950 to the summer of 1959, steel wages as a whole rose by greater percentages and by greater absolute amounts than wages in most of the economy . . .

"In terms of average hourly earnings, steel wages are higher than those in most other industries. The May average of $3.10 in the steel industry compared with $2.23 in manufacturing as a whole, $2.68 in automobiles."

Prices—"Prices of basic steel products are at peak levels . . . Steel prices have risen higher and faster than wholesale prices in general and much more than retail prices.

"Comparing the first half of 1959 with the 1940 average, the prices of all commodities at wholesale advanced by 134%. In the same period, the consumer price index rose 107 per cent, in contrast with the 178% rise for steel."

Profits—"In the 3 years 1955, 1956 and 1957 combined, the 20 largest steel companies had a rate of return on net worth of 12.8 per cent, compared to 14.7% for the 25 largest industrial firms in the nation.

"In the first half of 1959, the steel companies increased their rate of return, both in relation to their 1955-57 average and in relation to the rate of return for the group of the largest industrial firms.

"During the postwar period steel industry profits (after taxes) per dollar of sales have been higher than the comparable ratio for all manufacturing. The difference has widened in recent years, starting in 1955."

Decision Due Thursday:

$1,513,000 AIRPORT AID ASKED

By Betty Person

Lincoln airport officials appeared before the State Aeronautics Commission Wednesday asking for $1,513,000 in federal aid and whatever state funds my be available to construct the new east site airport approved earlier by the Lincoln Airport Authority.

Lincoln's request was included among 15 pleas for state or federal funds heard Wednesday by the Commission which will meet again Thursday to announce its decision on the various requests.

Rolland Harr, executive director of the Lincoln Airport Authority, said the planned east Lincoln airport, proposed for initial service to private operators with the possibility of later expansion to include commercial service, provides the most desirable site in the area.

He noted that the State Aeronautics Department had previously conducted a site study when he was director of the Department and had found the chosen east location the most desirable for future expansion of the city's air services.

The total cost of the Lincoln airport project will be $3,467,417, Harr said, and of that amount some $442,000 would be in items not eligible for federal aid.

This leaves the total amount eligible for federal aid at $3,026,000. Since federal funds are matched on a 50% basis, this makes the federal aid request $1,513,000 and the cost to the Lincoln Airport Authority will be $1,954,819.

A 6,700-foot runway, which could be expanded to 9,000 feet, is planned for the new airport, Harr said, along with a terminal building, 7 aircraft parking areas, a large shop hangar, and 37-multiple T-hangar units.

Harr said 80 planes are now based at Union Airport, several of which are twin-engined planes, and he described the Union facility as "unsafe" for twin-engined aircraft.

He also cited the safety problem Lincoln has concerning the use of one runway at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Harr said Lincoln "probably ranks at the top" as far as safety problems are concerned with present air service facilities.

No Specific Amount

Harr did not ask for a specific amount in state aid for the Lincoln project, but said the Airport Authority "would also like to have state matching funds."

He noted the Authority has certified to the City Council the need for a one mill levy which he explained would raise $150,000 a year.

Accompanying Harr at the meeting with the Commission were Airport Authority members Leo Beck Jr., chairman, Robert Phillips and C. Robert Fulton, and Wardner Scott of Hoskins & Associates, consulting engineers.

$1.5-$1.9 Million Bond Issue Seen

By Virgil Falloon

The Lincoln Airport Authoritys proposed $3,468,000 municipal airport east of the city would probably require a 20-year-revenue bond issue of $1.5 million to $1.9 million to finance local costs.

Authority Chairman Leo J. Beck Jr. said Wednesday that only a $1.5 million issue would be needed if the State Aeronautics Commission would grant $200,000 in state airport funds and $180,000 in non-interest funds for hangars.

However, Beck estimated debt service costs, even on the higher figure, probably would not exceed $150,000 annually.

"At least," he added, "that's the maximum the Authority is figuring on."

Hope To Save

The one-mill levy certified by the Authority on Lincoln's assessed valuation is expected to raise in excess of $150,000 annually, but Beck explained that debt costs would be kept within that limit to permit accumulation of funds for later improvement or operations.

The proposed plan includes a 6,700-foot north-south concrete runway, control tower, access road, storage and shop hangars, terminal building and utilities.

Wardner Scott of Harold Hoskins & Associates, consulting engineer to the Authority, said the new east airport could be ready for traffic by December, 1960, if planning and approval of funds were reasonably rapid.

Total construction cost, including acquisition of 977-acres plus clearance zones, is proposed as $1,513,000 in federal aid and $1,954,000 in local funds.

$125,000 Cut

Plan revisions, since the east airport site was approved by a 3-2 Authority vote Tuesday, cut about $125,000 from the original estimate.

However, revised plans now propose a $204,000 terminal building with 12,000 square feet comparable to the existing Municipal Terminal Building at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Authority officials said the larger building was possible because one-third would be eligible for federal aid.

To reduce the total cost and permit the enlarged terminal building, the Authority cut back these items: shop hangars by $157,000; fencing by $34,000; and storage hangars by $69,000.

Quake Survivors Evacuated; Search For Victims Readied

West Yellowstone, Mont. (AP)—All known survivors of the Montana earthquake were brought out Wednesday as searchers prepared to tackle a 50-million-ton mountain slide to find out how many died beneath its rock and dirt.

A hunt for bodies will be made, too, in waters into which the quake-loosed mountain tumbled.

Eight bodies have been recovered since the quake rocked the southwestern part of the state late Monday night.

On the basis of eyewitness reports, the toll could go to at least 13. The search of the landslide and the waters of Hebgen Lake and Madison River could send it still higher.

Auto Engulfed

Half a dozen persons say they saw an automobile occupied by a man, a woman and a crippled child buried by the avalance. Their bodies have not been recovered.

Sheriff Donald Skerritt said the lakeside home of Mrs. Grace Miller, about 60, was washed away in the middle of the night by waters surging under the impact of the landslide. He said she was almost certain to have been in it.

A car and trailer slid into the lake behind Hebgen Dam. Skindivers are hunting for bodies.

Survivors at the Rock Creek campground reported seeing 5 cars and 10 trailers covered by the slide. They said they had no idea how many, if any, people were in them.

Injury Toll High

Scores of persons were injured. At one time 34 were hospitalized.

It may be days or weeks before the landslide in the still quivering vacationland can be explored sufficiently to establish the death toll.

"Some people may have been buried by the large land mass which slipped into Madison Canyon," said A. E. Zion of the Montana state highway department.

Searchers assembled equipment to claw at the great hill in a grim hunt for more victims. But their start was delayed until land movements cease in the still quivering area.

All known survivors—about 300 persons —have been brought out of Madison Canyon, where they were trapped between damaged Hebgen Dam and the landslide.

Batista Heads Abroad

Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic (AP)—Exiled former dictator Fulgencio Batista of Cuba left here by special plane Wednesday, the immigration service reported, for a new exile home in the Portuguese Madeira Islands.

Batista had been an embarrassment to the Trujillo regime. He was a sore point especially in conflicts with the Castro regime of Cuba.

His departure came one day after the conference of American foreign ministers at Santiago, Chile, subscribed to a formula to calm the trouble spots of Latin America, particularly the Caribbean area. The Cubans and Dominicans joined the 19 other countries of the Organization of American States in this project.

U.S. Entry Nixed

It also came one day after the State Department announced in Washington that the question of admitting Batista to the U.S. "is a dead issue." A department spokesman declined to go beyond that comment on Batista's petition for admission as a political exile.

Sources here gave this version of Batista's departure:

He and his party of 17 left on a special plane for Lisbon, Portugal, at 5 p.m.

An American attorney, Lawrence Berenson, was among those with him. Others included former Cuban officials and military men, a Cuban newsman and two women.

Sources here said Batista had been granted political asylum by the Portuguese government.

Chiefs To Stay In 3-I League

The Lincoln Chiefs announced Wednesday that the baseball club will operate in the Three-I League in 1960.

A. Q. Schimmel, president of the Chiefs, and Three-I League president Hal Totten made the joint announcement.

Thunderstorm Drops Temp 20 Degrees

A passing thunderstorm Wednesday afternoon air-conditioned Lincoln's 91 degrees to a pleasant 71 in the space of an hour.

Gusts of wind up to 30 mph were accompanied by thundershowers which brought .10 inch of rain to Lincoln and .60 at LAFB.

The pleasant reading was short-lived, however, as the temperature spitefully rose to 82 by late Wednesday night.

The thunderstorm stretched from Norfolk to the Schuyler-North Bend region to 30 miles west of Omaha into the Wahoo area and south to Lincoln.

But don't put those umbrellas away! Partly cloudy skies with widely-scattered showers and thunderstorms over the state are predicted Thursday and Thursday night.

Cooler temperatures are expected to reach the northwest portion with highs in the 80s. Highs over the remainder of the state will be in the 90s.

TRIBUTE TO AN OLD SOLDIER

The old soldier stood ramrod straight, clutching his little granddaughter's hand, as the Nebraska National Guard marched by 4,000 strong in tribute to him. See page 8.

Wisconsin Cop Spoke To 'Noble'

...But Didn't Know Then That He Was Fugitive

Tomah, Wis.—Tomah Police Chief A. A. Clumpner has told newsmen that one of his officers probably questioned kidnap-rape suspect Harlan Lynn Noble but released him without knowing he was a fugitive.

Clumpner said one of his men checked out a man sleeping in a car in Tomah August 13 about 8:45 p.m. He said the officer, believing the man was only a transient, told the man to be on his way.

Three hours later, Clumpner said, the officer received an alert from the sheriff's office at Winona, Minn., with Noble's description.

Used Alias 'Boyd'

Clumpner said the officer immediately recognized the transient as Noble, and said the man even showed the policeman identification with the name "Boyd" on it. Noble, while living in Lincoln, Neb., went by the alias of Boyd.

A search for the man was started immediately but police could find no trace of him. Clumpner said the bulletin on Noble from Winona was the first word his office had of the search for the 47-year-old mental hospital escapee.

Tomah, a community of about 5,000 persons, is located in southwest Wisconsin about 40 miles east of LaCrosse.

Positively Identified

The Tomah officer later positively identified Noble from photographs, Clumpner told newsmen.

Wisconsin lawmen believe Noble, charged with the Aug. 1 kidnap-rape of 6-year-old Theresa Dowding of Lincoln, probably is still in the state.

Authorities are inclined to discount an earlier report that a man resembling Noble tried to lure a 9-year-old Pierre, S.D., girl, from her home but fled when she refused to come out. Pierre police said nothing concrete had been turned up to indicate Noble had been in their city.

Lincoln Police Chief Joe Carroll, when asked about the Wisconsin report, said he had received no information about Noble from Wisconsin authorities. He said he probably would not be notified unless Noble were apprehended.

Commercial Leaders Believe:

Combination Of Factors Could Attract Business

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of 5 articles on the future of Lincoln as seen by local business leaders.)

By Don Walton

'Tis a combination of attractive factors which will make a city commercially successful.

Changes here and there can eliminate depressive factors, and give birth to new magnetic forces.

A number of Lincoln's leading business figures were asked what they would like to see changed in the Capital City in order to improve the city's commercial appeal and enhance its business future.

Assured anonymity, they were honestly frank.

Here are some of their suggestions:

—additional and improved recreational facilities, including (specifically) city parks, lakes, zoos, cultural activities, a new golf course and quality entertainment.

—liquor-by-the-drink, to attract more shoppers from outstate and remove one of the strongest obstacles in the path of establishing the Capital City as a convention center.

—expanded air service facilities.

—new reclamation projects (specifically, Salt-Wahoo) and their resultant recreational by-products.

—bold new street and highway improvement.

—additional downtown parking facilities, although the city at this time compares highly favorably with Omaha in this respect.

—a major public relations drive on the part of Lincoln businessmen to sell Lincoln to outstate Nebraskans as the state's major quality retail center followed up by a series of quality entertainment and recreational promotions sufficient to attract the out-state shopper. (The key word here: quality.)

Attracting people to Lincoln to purchase is a competitive proposition.

It was estimated in 1950 that 1,194,000 people lived within 100 miles of Lincoln. All, thus, are potential customers. It's a rich commercial reservoir which Lincoln businessmen are constantly seeking to tap.

However, there are other business centers located in that 100-mile radius, cheifly Omaha. The problem: out-bid Omaha for the outstate customer.

The bait: cultural, civic, recreational and entertainment attractions. Get the customer here to play; then entice him to shop.

For a half-dozen Saturdays this fall, there will be nearly 40,000 people within a few blocks of downtown merchants. Rich reward awaits those who can attract the University of Nebraska football fan downtown.

Such is the path to commercial success. And, that's only part of the reason Lincoln businessmen are so pleased to have the University, state government and other major institutions at their doorsteps.

(The 1960 census, by the way, is expected to show that 1.3 million people now live within that 100-mile radius.)

As a lure to regional industry in search of a market, businessmen point to the fact that within 300 miles live an estimated 6,992,000 people.

But, retail competition with Kansas City and Des Moines and Wichita is a bit unrealistic.

Tomorrow: Growth, its bright promise, its dangers.

Acid Squirted At New Jersey Rep. Thompson

CRANK IS BLAMED BY SOLON

Washington (AP)—Rep. Frank Thompson (D-NJ) said Wednesday he was squirted from a truck with a fluid which burned him slightly. A police analysis later identified the liquid as sulphuric acid.

Thompson blamed it on a crank, but some congressmen linked the incident with the New Jersey lawmaker's work on labor control legislation.

The fluid burned a hole in Thompson's shirt and left a small burn on his shoulder when he threw up his arm to protect hs face. He did not seek medical treatment.

The New Jersey congressman said the panel truck darted into traffic before he was able to get a good look at the two white men he said were inside.

The attack occurred while Thompson was driving to the Capitol from his home in nearby Alexandria, Va.

He told newsmen the truck stopped beside his car when he was halted for a light near Capitol Hill. He said he first saw the truck a few minutes earlier while crossing a bridge across the Potomac River.

As Thompson related it, the man sitting next to the truck driver seemed to laugh at him before leaning over and squirting fluid from what looked to be a syringe.

Police said Thompson told them it was possible he had angered the men in the truck by inadvertently cutting in front of them in traffic.

First reports of the incident came from some of Thompson's fellow House members.

Trooper Says Kansas Boy Saved Him

Scottsbluff, Neb. (AP)—Lt. Leo Knudtson of the State Safety Patrol Wednesday night credited a Kansas boy with saving him from death by drowning.

The lieutenant said he was boating at Lake Minatare and was attempting to climb from a small boat to a larger one when the small boat "slid out from under me" and plunged him into the water.

Knudtson said he hung onto the small boat for about 5 minutes but finally lost his grip.

He said he went under once and was going under again when he spotted a boy docking a boat some distance down the shore.

Knudtson yelled.

George McNeish, 16, of Mission, Kan., heard the cries.

McNeish set out into the lake, got to Knudtson's side and hauled the officer into the boat.

Maddened Elephant Stampedes

. . . Thousands Hurt

Kandy, Ceylon (AP)—A temple elephant ran amok through Buddhist pageant crowds Wednesday night, bringing death to 20 persons and injury to thousands. The seriously injured were estimated at 250.

The elephant became enraged when it stepped on burning coals accidentally dropped in its path from flaming torches.

The beast wheeled out of control and ran madly through a crowd of 200,000 panic-stricken spectators.

Two mahouts managed to stop the animal and chain it to a lamp post for a time but the elephant broke loose and charged again, smashing shop fronts and trampling everything in its path.

It was finally stopped by police bullets.

World's Biggest

The temple elephants, mostly freckle-nosed tushers, are rated the largest in the world. When they go amok—as they seldom do—they can inflict their most deadly damage by trampling and swinging their rigid trunks.

Several people were reported missing. Some were feared to have fallen or jumped into Kandy Lake, the home of many thousand sacred turtles.

Five days ago a similar incident occurred during a Buddhist procession near Colombo. Some 100 were injured then.

AF Orbits Discoverer Satellite

. . . Catch Try Set

Vancenberg AFB, Calif. (AP)—The Discoverer VI satellite zoomed into orbit Wednesday carrying a capsule the Air Force hopes to snatch from the air as it parachutes earthward near Hawaii Thursday.

The 1,700-pound satellite was caught by tracking stations in Alaska as it was completing its first circuit of the earth. The Air Force said it was circling the earth's poles once every 95 minutes and is expected to stay in orbit at least 30 days.

Following an egg-shaped path through the skies, it comes within 138 miles of earth at its closest point and goes as far out as 537 miles.

Radio signals are loud and strong, the Air Force said, indicating that the satellite is stable in orbit.

One of the aims of the Discoverer series is to study techniques of sending man into space and back.

The Air Force faces staggering odds in its planned aerial capsule recovery try.

If all goes right—and a thousand things could go wrong—the capsule will be kicked loose from the rocket's 19-foot second stage Thursday afternoon. The capsule would descend on a parachute, sending out radio signals to indicate its whereabouts. A squadron of C119 flying boxcars would go after it, and try to snatch it with trapeze-like contraptions attached to each plane.

Such a recovery never has been made.

Protest Planned To City Airport Site Decision

A group of Lincoln citizens plan to protest the decision of the city Airport Authority to build a new municipal airport on the eastern edge of the city, according to C. O. Blanchard.

Blanchard said that rumors that he planned to circulate petitions against the decision were false. "This has to be approached on a state level," he said.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson said that a petition would not be effective against the Authority decision.

No Revue By Petition

"The Authority's decision was administartive and as such is not subject to revue by petition," Nelson said.

"The only recourse in a decision of this type is an appeal to the administrative body responsible," according to Nelson.

The Airport Authority was created under a state law passed during the last session of the Unicameral. However, there is no recourse to a decision by the Authority through state channels either, according to Nelson.

"It might be done indirectly through the State Aeronautics Authority since they will provide some of the money," Nelson said.

Blanchard, an unsuccessful candidate for the city council in the last municipal elections, said he "did not like the whole Authority setup."

Arbitrary Decision

"This is an arbitrary decision by 3 men. Expanding the present municipal airport facilities can easily handle the expanded airline traffic and we have two smaller airports in the city capable of taking care of light planes," Blanchard said.

"It is not worth spending all that money and taking that land off the tax rolls if we can solve the problem cheaper with what we've already got," Blanchard continued.

Blanchard was a leader in the recent wheel tax referendum petition, which directly influenced repeal of the Council-passed wheel tax ordinance and adoption of a new wheel tax ordinance at a special city election.

Blanchard also spearheaded an initiative petition calling for the election of the City Council members by district. The district petition contains sufficient signatures, but the Council has not yet taken action for a special election.

71-Year-Old Woman Hurt In Crash On Vine

Lula V. Matthews, 71, of 1300 Piedmont Rd., suffered a cut and broken nose Wednesday when the car in which she was riding was in collision with a parked car, between 45th and 46th and Vine.

Driver of the car was Mabel K. Matthews, 71, of 1309 Piedmont Rd.

3 Suffer Face Cuts In Crash

Three Raymond youths suffered severe facial injuries late Wednesday afternoon when the car in which they were riding was involved in a 3-vehicle accident at 6th and Cornhusker Highway.

Injured were Darrell Nieman, 21, who suffered a possibly broken jaw; Della Ange, 18, and Jeanelle Ange, 16, who suffered serious face cuts. All 3 were listed in good condition at a local hospital.

The collision occurred, according to State Safety Patrol Trooper Kenny Rayburn, when a pickup truck driven by Agnes Pallas, 44, of West Lincoln, was in collision with the rear end of a car driven by Henry Fox, Jr., of 3135 No. 3.

After colliding with the Fox' car the pickup, which was east bound, swerved across the highway and was in collision with the west bound Nieman car, Rayburn said.

Minor Injuries Result From Head-On Crash

Only minor injuries resulted from a head-on collision late Wednesday at 28th and Cornhusker Highway which almost demolished both cars.

According to State Safety Patrol officials the accident occurred when a car driven by A.1c Ralph Grady of LAFB attempted to pass another west bound vehicle and was in collision with an eastbound car driven by Lawrence Reichwaldt of 218 No. 21.

Grady suffered leg cuts and bruises.

3 Iowans Hurt Slightly In Crash

A family of 3 Iowans suffered minor injuries Wednesday when the car in which they were riding was involved in a head-on collision with a car which was attempting to pass a truck, according to police reports.

Injured were: Forest E. Glaze Jr., 35, his wife, Helen and their daughter Teri, all of Council Bluffs, Ia. Glaze suffered a broken rib but was released by a local hospital after being treated.

His wife and daughter suffered minor facial cuts.

Police identified the driver of the other car involved in the accident at 63rd and Highway 6 as Ivory Hughes, 19, of 2012 Vine.

2 DIE IN COPTER MISHAP

. . . Aboard Carrier

Quonset Point, R. I. (AP)—The pilot of a helicopter — whose engine "ran away and exploded" — perished aboard the aircraft carrier Wasp. And an aviation apprentice died fighting a resulting fire.

The Navy announced Wednesday when the 32,500-ton carrier reached the naval air station here that 26 crewmen were hurt, but only one required hospitalization. He is AB3 Sydney A. Chaplin, 20, of Philadelphia. He was taken to Newport Naval Hospital suffering a fractured left leg and burns of the face and arms.

Quonset Point, R.I. (AP) — Two Nebraskans suffered smoke inhalation in an explosion on the aircraft carrier USS Wasp, the Navy announced Wednesday night.

They were listed as Richard E. Casper, 32, of Exeter, and Ronald N. Jacobson, Omaha.

250 Miles Off Coast

The Wasp was on anti-submarine maneuvers 250 miles off the Virginia coast when the mishap occurred.

Dead are: Lt. (j.g.) Jim Frank Hagan of Marianna, Fla., who was trapped in the blazing helicopter he was testing in hangar bay No. 1, and Donald H. Trask of Keene, N.H., whose body was found at the bottom of a plane elevator. He apparently was asphyxiated.

Rear Adm. Robert Stroh, commander of Carrier Div. 14, who used the Wasp as his flagship, said of the heroic crewmen: "their efforts saved this ship."

Washington (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill increasing from two to 3 years the period for which a new passport is valid.

Standard Of Indiana Charged With Rigging Dealers' Prices

Washington (UPI) — The government Wednesday charged Standard Oil Co. of Indiana with illegally fixing the retail price of gasoline through agreements with operators of its leased service stations.

The Federal Trade Commission said Standard of Indiana controlled the price of gasoline at the pumps through its "suggested competitive retail price plan" covering sales to both its dealers and the public.

Under a plan put into effect in December, 1955, the complaint said, the company and certain dealers had been able to fix and maintain gasoline prices in marketing areas.

Monopoly Move

The commission said Standard of Indiana was guilty of "unfair methods of competition forbidden by the FTC act." It said the practices it cited tended to create a monopoly and to restrain or eliminate competition.

According to the FTC, Standard has more than 10,000 dealers to whom it has leased or sub-leased stations in its primary marketing area covering 15 Midwest and mountain states.

"Many of these operators are independent businessmen or would be such in the absence of the power and control exercised over them by Standard of Indiana," the commission charged.

Control Gimmicks

The FTC also accused Standard of dominating its dealers by provisions in their leases and supply contracts and by constant inspection and surveillance of their business operations.

"It uses this domination to coerce the independent dealers to abide by policies it may suggest or put into effect, including the suggested retail price plan," the FTC said.

The company was granted 30 days in which to file an answer to the complaint.

Teachers Hold Meeting Here

Some 175 Nebraska vocational homemaking teachers, teacher educators and city and state supervisors are attending a 3-day homemaking education meeting at the Cornhusker.

The meeting, under the direction of Miss Rose Wanek, director of homemaking education for the State Dept. of Education, will end Thursday.

Speakers include Dr. Lawrence K. Bee of the University of Kansas and Dr. Niels Wodder of the State Dept. of Education.

BELAFONTE GRABS CAMERA, EXPOSES FILM, APOLOGIZES

Washington (AP) — Harry Belafonte grabbed a freelance photographer's camera, yanked it open and exposed pictures taken during the singer's performance. But the incident ended peacefully.

The photographer, Al Muto, said he had been taking pictures during the show at Carter Barron amphitheater from the front of the audience without use of flash. At intermission, Belafonte sent word inviting Muto to his dressing room.

According to Mutto, when he stepped into the dressing room Belafonte "flew into a rage," complaining the photographer's movements had interrupted the show. Then, Muto said, the singer exposed the film.

Muto said Belafonte then dropped the camera to the floor and kicked it. However, Belafonte's manager, Carson Harris, said the only damage to the camera was a broken hinge and he did not see Belafonte drop the camera.

But the argument ended when the singer had Harris pay $250 to Muto for the cost of the camera. Belafonte apologized and invited Muto to come back and shoot more pictures at another time.

Brownell Shuns '60 GOP Battle

New York (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., a native Nebraskan, said Wednesday he'll take no part in any presidential nomination battle between Vice President Nixon and New York Gov. Rockefeller.

"It's true in the sense that I retired from politics when I resigned down there in Washington," Brownell said.

Asked if his support was requested by either Nixon or Rockefeller, Brownell laughed and declined a reply.

Brownell, who resigned as attorney general in 1957, was influential in the nominating and election campaigns of Republicas Thomas E. Dewey and President Eisenhower.

The Earth Trembles

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Make no mistake about it — an earthquake is a terrifying thing, as any of those caught in the great Montana quake can now attest to. These people have experienced what is believed to be the second largest earthquake known to hit the United States —second only to the 1906 quake which virtually destroyed San Francisco.

Fortunately, the Montana disaster will not produce the records of death and destruction, of heroism, of terror, fear and anxiety which were made in the San Francisco quake. The lack of a concentration of population in the Montana area hit makes sure of this one consoling factor. But this 1959 upheaval by nature will be long remembered. It will be known by its own peculiar trade marks such as the mountain which was upended and thrown into the Madison River, the roads that have been destroyed and, of course, the dead it has claimed. While only eight known dead can be accounted for at this time, the number could be greatly increased as all areas of the quake are investigated.

Salvation In Lack Of People

Doubtless, there will be many people who will never be accounted for. And certainly, the quake will live forever in the minds of those people who experienced it. Those who might have experienced one of the many small quakes which strike the west coast from time to time might well imagine what this tremendous splittling of the earth did to the thoughts and imagination of people in the middle of it.

Even a slight shaking of the earth produces the greatest sense of insecurity. It is probably due to the fact that it is something from which there is no escape. One can flee a fire or run from pending dangers of most nature, but not from an earthquake.

People do run in the midst of an earthquake but it is in panic, not in the knowledge or even hope that it will do them any good. You can't climb anything and get away from a quake as the very foundations of everything are rocking with the earth. If you move to another spot, you simply go from one quaking area to another. It is, perhaps, the most helpless feeling that nature can give to man.

And the mind, naturally, plays the meanest tricks upon people at the worst time. The first thought of most people caught in an earthquake is of being swallowed up by the earth. In an area of Montana in which this earthquake struck, there would be the added fear of high places. It is bad enough driving over some of the cliffside highways of this area under normal circumstances.

But to be on one of these roads during an earthquake would just about give an individual a fatal case of shattered nerves. Many of the western states' highways, those through mountain passes, warn motorists to beware of rock slides. The highway leading from Yellowstone National Park into Cody, Wyoming is about as precarious a piece of road as one could find.

And Yellowstone itself is an area of somewhat uneasiness. Its erupting geysers, peculiar rock formations, natural springs, etc., give one the feeling that all is not quite right with this land. And mountains always carry a bit of foreboding with them. They are magnificently impressive, yet awesome and cold.

The great canyons which one can see in so many parts of the west are like God's forgotten land. Treacherous walls of rock falling to the river below present nothing but a vast desolation. They are something to see, to be sure, but you can't help but wonder if the country is not yet unfinished. An earthquake in the midst of such surroundings undoubtedly left thousands of people in a state of terror and perhaps shock. There is little wonder that they left their cars and fled without any sense of direction as the highway actually opened up and then crumpled before them.

Impressive Unreality

It might be surprising, too, to learn what the earthquake will do to the tourist business in that Montana region. For many more years now, there will be untold numbers of people who will hesitate to visit this scenic natural beauty spot. Its grandeur and its stimulation will be stunted in the minds of those who only remember the great quake of 1959.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

The Eternal Struggle

By BILL ANDERSON
Star Staff Writer

A flea came calling. He crawled across the fringe of the scatter-rug and spied old Bones lying there in the center like a lily floating on a still pond.

"Aha!" cried the flea. "Here's a friend for me!" His buggy little eyes lit up with happiness and his tiny antennae quivered like the needle on a geiger counter.

Unknowing, unseeing Bones was deep in sleep, dreaming of treasure chests filled with hamburger. His guttural snores echoed loudly in the room.

The flea crawled closer. At last he reached the dog's outstretched hind leg. He paused, then leaped upon the leg. Bones didn't move.

The flea inched its way upward until he became lost in the jungle-like fur on Bones' back. He burrowed down into the dense mat where warmth and comfort awaited him.

Bones jerked convulsively. He jerked again and his wise old eyes blinked open.

"Who's there?" he asked, turning his head to survey the broad expanse of his furry back.

"It is I, the flea," a muffled voice squeaked. "I have come to visit and to promote better relations between you and me."

Old Bones thought to himself: "This flea is my natural enemy. His visit will bring me nothing but trouble and if he stays, his friends and relatives will come in droves."

Bones mustered his strength, then quickly flopped over on his back, squashing the flea.

"I only wanted to be your friend so I wouldn't be so lonely," the flea cried.

"I'm sorry," said Bones, "but destiny placed us on opposite sides of the fence and fate meant it to end this way. Goodbye little flea."

The flea died uncomprehending.

Bones rolled over and went to sleep.

Polio Epidemic Was Unnecessary

WASHINGTON — The American public isn't being told the whole story about the shocking rise of polio which caught the nation with a Salk vaccine shortage in many areas.

Officially the U.S. Public Health Service explains the situation by saying that "community" innoculation drives, spurred by the rising incident of polio, have drained off vaccine supplies.

However, what the people aren't being told is that the alarming increase of the crippling disease, plus the vaccine shortage, might have been avoided, or at least lessened, if many medical societies had not blocked mass Salk vaccine immunization.

One of the worst outbreaks of polio this year occurred in Des Moines, Iowa, where two years ago the Iowa State Medical Society went on record against "mass immunization . . . without (doctor) fees for administration."

In other words, the Iowa Medical Society wanted Iowans to go to the office of each individual doctor and pay a $4 or $5 fee for each Salk vaccine shot, rather than have the shots administered on a mass, cut-rate basis by nurses under the supervision of a doctor.

It is a well known fact that many people, especially lower bracket families, will not go to a doctor's office to be inoculated against polio or any other disease.

A similar situation occurred in Washington, D.C., in 1957, when the District of Columbia Medical Society balked at supplying medical supervision for the anti-polio inoculation of 1,600 capitol employees. They claimed it was "socialized medicine." The Navy Department finally had to provide an attending physician.

Dr. Leroy Burney, director of the U.S. Public Health Service, when interviewed last week on NBC, did not reveal that the opposition of medical groups to mass Salk vaccine immunization—so-called socialized medicine—was the chief reason for the current polio epidemic. And NBC did not press him. In fact, Commentator Morgan Beatty stated that Salk vaccine shots have been free—which was anything but the case in most cities until the present emergency.

However, public health doctors working under Burney are less discreet. They are emphatic that had the medical societies of all states cooperated in mass inoculation programs, instead of crying about "socialized medicine," there would be no polio epidemic today. Also, with planned mass inoculations, the supply of Salk vaccine would be more closely stabilized to demand, since manufacturers can then gauge the market.

A Girl Has Pride, You Know

(Editor's Note: Preparing for her marriage to Steven Rockefeller next Friday, Anne Marie Rasmussen is too busy for letter-writing. But this, according to columnist Phyllis Battelle, is what she'd write if she had time.)

SOGNE, NORWAY — Dear Fairy Godmother:

You are always working miracles, I understand, for people like myself who are young, willing and have, upon occasion, scrubbed a kitchen floor.

Well my problem, Miss Godmother, is this. People over on the other side have circulated a lot of rumors to the effect that I am a poor, humble, weakling sort of girl rather like what's her name, Cinderella.

I would like it made clear to the American people that here in Norway we have a true democracy, and that means that to peel a potato for an honest living is every bit as respectable as to clerk in a bank. The point here is not what you do, but how you do it, and with what intent.

☆ ☆ ☆

I come from a town of 400 people, called Sogne. The people of Sogne are quite soigne and sophisticated. You see, it is a resort town and we have the company of summer merrymakers from all over the world. A lot of newspaper people keep writing how brave I was to go to New York City and to take a "menial" job as a kitchen maid in the home of the Rockefeller family.

I would be delighted if you would get it into their skulls that this was quite the logical thing for a girl from Sogne to do after she graduates from high school. Why, for generations the people of my town have had close contact with the United States. Nearly every family here has relatives in the U.S.

So when I went to the United States it was most logical. And when I went to work as a Rockefeller maid, this was logical too. Every girl in Norway knows ho to cook very well, and what's the difference if you're cooking in your own kitchen or in somebody else's — except that in somebody else's you get paid cash instead of compliments.

If you do manage to get out the message, would you also sneak in the word — modestly, if you please—that we are NOT destitute.

My daddy has a nice business exporting lobsters. He is interested in politics, and a member of the local council.

☆ ☆ ☆

We have a new house, and a new shop, and a boat and bikes, and what else do you want? Except, of course, health. And we have plenty of that too.

I would appreciate whatever you can do before my wedding August 22 to dissuade folks from comparing me with Cinderella. And if there's a sorcery fee, please send the bill to my pop, rather than Steven's. He's a proud man, you see.

Cordially,

Ministers Conference Ends

Most observers will define the results of the Inter-American Foreign Ministers Conference at Santiago, Chile, as mild.

After the 21 ministers finished only the weapons of disapproval and watchfulness emerged to cope with the increasing tensions in the Latin American sea we refer to as the Gulf of Mexico.

Revolutionists and fiery-headed dictators are not known for their responsiveness to raised eyebrows. The other fellow's disapproval composes the bread by which they live. If that is all that is to come from this move for peace and tranquility then the invasions and counter invasions symbolizing the current relations between Cuba and the Dominican Republic together with the overseas fingering in Latin American affairs by ill-meaning foreign powers will go on without restraint.

But on the plus side, the conference amounted to official facing up to a serious situation—identifying it and declaring it to be evil. That is a hopeful beginning. The ministers must rest their case with the governing powers of their respective countries for the stronger actions which must be forthcoming if the peace is to be preserved. There is reason to believe that here is a beginning of concerted action which will have more effect on the disturbing forces than mere disapproval.

The conference cannot be written off. But it cannot be judged until future action gives it substance or relegates it to impotence.

So Big A Man

A truly great, public serving American died the other day.

He was Dr. Cornelius Packard Rhoads, 61, of Stonington, Conn.

In this day of wall-to-wall publicity, so dear to the ambitious and self-seeking, it is next to impossible for the average American to get the visage of a certain type of distinguished person out of his breakfast food, his baseball game, his newspaper or even his slumber.

But Dr. Rhoads was especially disinterested in fame or gain. He was too busy in his lifetime trying to give hope and longevity to people stricken with grim and incomprehensible diseases, especially cancer. And because of his genius he made remarkable headway. Because he lived the day was greatly hastened when the human race will not need to fear the presence of that disease.

Dr. Rhoads joined the staff of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical research in 1928. He became director of the Sloan-Kettering Memorial Center in 1940, a director of Sloan Kettering in 1945 and scientific director of its Memorial Center in 1953. On his illustrious way to being a leading figure in the fight against cancer he gave the world many new discoveries in toxicology, was awarded the Legion of Merit by his government, and saved the lives of countless service men in World War II by successfully conducting a national blood procurement program.

Dr. Rhoads was one of the school of scientists who believe that cancer will yield ultimately to chemical treatment. Three years ago, such headway as had been made, caused him to predict that cancer would be curable within a decade. To support his conviction he contributed more than 100 useful articles to medical journals which serve as mileposts along the road to victory over poliomyelitis, anemia and gastric cancers.

But the good doctor was an especially humble man, looking upon himself as only one of many dedicated individuals who are giving their whole thought and energy to relieving human kind, each happy enough if he can flash his little light a few feet farther down the dark and tortuous path so others can move ahead. Of Dr. Rhoads we can say his light threw an especially long beam. And because he never threw it on himself his countless beneficiaries have a right to this belated identification of a great friend, protector and benefactor.

Airport Question Settled

While there will be those who will long believe a mistake was made, the Lincoln Airport Authority has dissolved the site problem it has faced in recent weeks. By a three to two vote, it has approved an east location for what will be the city's new municipal airport.

It is estimated that the new airport will cost Lincoln approximately $1,950,000, with federal funds furnishing the remainder of the $3.5 million total price tag. This is one heck of a lot of money and may well tie up all existing Authority income for the next 20 years. And there is some question as to whether more money will be needed for terminal building facilities if the new airport is to handle commercial airlines traffic.

Also, the runways involved at this stage will not handle jet aircraft—a problem Lincoln might well have to face before the next 20 years are over. Authority member Charles Stuart was probably hitting the nail on the head when he said of the program that "we may be broke most of the time, but we can do it." Yes, Lincoln is capable of providing the funds for a new airport and there are few people who question the wisdom of doing so.

But it is a need which should be faced with realism. The bill will be a big one and will not be easy for taxpayers to accept. But the acceptance will come if the program is handled with diligent efficiency and effectiveness. It will be the responsibility of the Authority to see to it that the new airport comes as close to paying for itself as is possible. The taxpayers of Lincoln and their overall welfare should be the first consideration of Authority members in everything they do. To let any special interest group command authority beyond their entitlement will eventually destroy the benefits that can come from our effort to meet this challenge of aviation progress.

Russian Plan

The Soviet Union has decided to go in for installment credit. People will be able to buy things on a 20 to 25 per cent down payment and make monthly payments up to a year.

This is another Russian first. We may not think so because we have had installment buying for years. But the Russian plan is truly different. Where in case of nonpayment we reposses the the goods, the Russian police will reposses the buyer.

N.Y. Democrats Stand Divided

NEW YORK — New York Democrats think they know the name of the Republican candidate for president next year, but their crystal ball is quickly clouded when they look for their own.

Perhaps they are unduly influenced by the beating they took at his hands, but they are confident that Governor Nelson Rockefeller wants and will get the Republican nomination.

Their own factional feuds and the failure of any Democratic candidate to achieve a commanding lead combine to confuse and unsettle them about the balloting at Los Angeles. They do not even have an obvious choice for chairman of their delegation with its rich store of 90-plus votes. It could be Mayor Robert Wagner, but former Governor Averell Harriman wants the honor and controller Arthur Levitt, the only Democrat to survive the state-wide Rockefeller blitz, might be a compromise selection.

New York county (Tammany) leader Carmine De Sapio is presently tied down by a challenge to his control of the county organization. In his key area, the district leaders are subject to direct election and critics of the De Sapio regime have put up their own candidates against his supporters.

These critics, mostly young people and women, are, generally speaking, liberals and they enjoy the counsel and financial support of such veterans as former Senator Herbert Lehman, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and former Air Force Secretary Thomas Finletter. They candidly have little hope of a triumph but believe they can cut down De Sapio enough to scare him.

What they hope to get out of scaring him is not only a more liberal slant to party policy but recognition of the need for new faces and young ideas. To Mrs. Roosevelt, for example, it seems clear that the future belongs to those politicians who are willing to abandon vested interests in favor of a fresh look at conditions as they exist today.

Her loyalties are famous; it was a truism in the White House during the New Deal era that the "go-through" part of the White House was on the distaff side. But as she demonstrated at Chicago in 1956, when she directly challenged former President Truman, she has cast her ballot for the future and to her the New Deal is history.

If she has a favorite among the present aspirants for the Democratic nomination for president, she is careful not to name him. But she believes any candidate is in trouble who is not able to define the direction in which he proposes to take the United States in the next few years.

The scuttlebut puts De Sapio in the category of the old pros who believe that because no one is against him, Senator Stuart Symington—with Senator John Kennedy for vice president—is the present best choice of the Democrats.

Adlai Stevenson continues to command great fidelity in many Democratic quarters here. Senator Hubert Humphrey is enjoying a vogue among liberals and party contributors. Kennedy has important friends. The considered opinion in most quarters is that Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas can win New York support only by putting over the kind of strong civil rights bill the South would oppose.

New Yorkers Find Life Brittle

NEW YORK — Tuesday morning the New York Times used the big, 8-column triple-decker headlines it usually reserves for wars, elections, and other major turns in the tides of history.

Monday night and Tuesday the columns of print rolled off the presses of the great dailies — dozens of columns and pictures by the score.

All because a part of the great, glittering city had gone without electricity from afternoon until early morning.

Some of the people sang on street corners and danced on the sidewalks, Others huddled in fear. For there was a silence that required breaking, and a strangeness that needed reassurance.

And some talked about the great complexities of the life into which modern urban dwellers have worked themselves.

It was a time when a broad-faced moon shone across the land, but moonbeams are not an ordinary light in the streets of Manhattan, nor do they pierce its canyons.

In Manhattan, when the power goes off, there is less of that gentle, slowly increasing visibility to which dwellers of the countryside are accustomed when they go into the night. And the quiet is sombre rather than soothing.

Babies have been born throughout all time in the light of faggots, or candles, and without creating comment. But in Manhattan, when one has to be born by flashlight it not only is news, but it is dangerous, because of the unaccustomed condition.

In Manhattan, whenever and wherever it is dark, there is predatory danger remindful of the jungle, and Monday night it took 3,000 policemen to bring only a measure of assurance to the two and a half mile residential area affected.

New York civil defense plans depend heavily on radio communication, but the radios and TV sets, the elevators, the refrigerators, the traffic lights in the streets, all were out Monday night.

It had been only two years since New York was reminded of her tenuous communications position, in an era when air raid sirens are frequently tested, by a sudden one-afternoon subway strike. The jam on the automatic switchboards of the dial network threw a major part of the telephone system out of operation.

All over the world — even in Soviet Russia — men released from the farms by mechanization, or urged on by their desire for what they think will be wider horizons, have been flocking to the cities. There, usually, all goes well, until something comes along to remind them of the brittle complexity of ordinary life, and how little it takes to upset it.

A Motorist's Prayer

Santa Barbara, Calif.

All still it lay, beside the road — a large thing that had once been a cow, and near it stood a little one alive, At first a dog it seemed, and then a closer look a baby calf distinguished. So small it was, its life could be counted only by days.

And this small waif, as innocent as any babe, leaned forlorn, helpless head against its mother's face, and licked it, wondering, pleading, waiting, in frailty and impotence, response to bring from quietude so strange and still.

A piteous sight this babe bereaved, and no one there to comfort and sustain the grieving, helpless mite struck suddenly with hunger, fear and lonely woe.

And we the mightier race, speed heedless on, and leave the road splashed hideously with shapeless, gory flesh, that sends through those not hard enough a painful shiver, darkening sight of country fair, the blues and greens, that else would make a motor trip a happy thing.

Please God, may never flesh or blood be on my wheels, though I can never boast how fast I drive.

MAN'S WORK

Nature grows some lovely things
But without a plan.
That church bell that loudly rings
Is the work of man.

Men have leveled jungles vast,
Paved the city streets.
Every car that hurries past
Some man's dream completes.

Is a better world to be
Than this one we know,
Filled with buildings new to see,
Men will make it so.

Ex-State Sen. John Beaver May Be Governor Candidate

By Betty Person

Another possible candidate for the GOP nomination as governor was revealed Wednesday when former State Sen. John Beaver of Beemer confirmed to The Star that he has been "contacted by a number of friends" asking him to "consider" the post of Nebraska's chief executive.

"There certainly isn't anything definite," Beaver said, adding that it was "too early to make any decision" on his possible candidacy at this time.

The 62-year-old retired merchant who served 4 terms in the Nebraska Legislature, from 1951 through 1957, noted that he has "always been interested in state government."

Asked if he would have any "qualms" about possibly opposing Sen. Terry Carpenter in a race for the GOP gubernatorial nomination should the Scottsbluff senator decide to enter the race, Beaver answered, "It appears there are going to be quite a few candidates."

"It looks like it's going to be pretty much a wide-open race," he said, "and it's a question of which candidate the people want to get out and support.

"There will be different philosophies of government presented" in the GOP gubernatorial race, Beaver said, and "some people may prefer Terry's philosophy of government, and others may prefer a different philosophy."

Urged By Friends

Beaver said he felt the "urging will have to come from friends rather than my pushing for it."

Beaver, who was speaker of the Legislature in 1957 and chairman of the Legislative Council in 1955, was grand master of Nebraska Masons for the 1958-59 term which ended last June.

The question of Carpenter's candidacy continues unanswered with the Scottsbluff senator's having announced only that he will decide next March whether he will seek any office.

Speculation on Carpenter centers on the two top races in the state and he's left the door open to his possible candidacy for either the U.S. Senate seat now held by Carl Curtis or that of the governor's chair.

Former Lancaster County Commissioner Del Lienemann is the only avowed candidate to date in the GOP governor's race, but indications of possible candidacy for that post have come from Sen. Dwain Williams of Broken Bow, Sen. J. O. Peck of Columbus, Sen. John Cooper of Humboldt, Lincoln attorney Frederick Wagener, former Sen. Monroe Bixler of Harrison, and former State GOP Chairmar Richard Spelts Jr. of Grand Island.

Former Gov. Victor Anderson has declined to comment on speculation that he might again seek the chief executive's post, but party leaders have expressed doubt that Anderson is planning to be a candidate.

State Retarded-School Director Not Rehired

Miss Elsbeth Thieme, director of the Nebraska Board of Control-operated school for trainable retarded children at Cozad, will not be retained for a second year.

Miss Thieme

Miss Thieme said Wednesday that the Board of Control notified her Monday that her contract would not be renewed for the coming term. She said that this action followed her meeting with the Board Monday morning in Lincoln.

"I don't understand it all," she said. "Nothing has happened. There is no reason why they refused to give me another year's contract."

Gave No Reason

Miss Thieme's contract with the Board will end on Aug. 31, she said. "The Board had asked me to stay for the summer and get things ready for the next term," she said. "They gave me no reason for their action, just told me that I wouldn't be hired for this next year."

Earlier stories had qyoted Miss Thieme as saying that the Board had asked her to resign, and after she refused to do so, had fired her. When asked to confirm this statement, Miss Thieme said that she "didn't want to talk about that."

Miss Thieme said that she had no definite plans for the future, other than to take "a well-earned vacation."

'Just Terminated'

Board of Control Member Harold Peterson said Wednesday the Board "did not ask Miss Thieme to resign," but "just simply terminated her services."

No specifics were given for her release but it was indicated that problems involved a language-barrier for the German director and differences of opinion on how the school should be administered.

Peterson, who said the Board's action was unanimous, explained the members believed Miss Thieme to be "well-qualified as a nurse and welfare worker," but that they were desirous of "obtaining a person with a background in special education as the director."

Several Interviewed

Dr. Vernon Hungate, director of special education for Board of Control institutions, was at Cozad late Wednesday to interview several applicants for the post.

Peterson said the Board has only one teacher returning from last year for the school's educational staff at this time. They will seek two more full-time teachers, he said, and an administrator who will teach part-time.

Planning for a total staff of 11 persons for the Cozad school, Peterson said there will be 4 members on the educational staff, two house parents, one cook, an assistant cook, two housekeepers and a part-time secretary.

Peterson said they now have one house parent and two housekeepers, but are interviewing applicants for the remaining staff positions.

Labor Leaders Planning To Meet Khrushchev

Unity House, Pa. (UPI)—Some AFL-CIO leaders are planning to meet with Soviet Premier Khrushchev next month even if the labor federation withholds its blessings on such talks.

Top federation officials prepared a draft resolution which would, in effect, declare AFL-CIO neutrality toward the impending American visit by the Russian leader.

This would leave the door open for private talks favored by United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther and other labor leaders who say they want to set Khrushchev straight on American workers' opposition to Communism.

Athletic Club Manager 'Unaware Of Violation'

The manager of the Omaha Athletic Club acknowledged Wednesday that some club accounts with liquor wholesalers have gone unpaid more than 30 days.

Jack Allgaier Jr. said he was unaware that he was in violation of regulations by failing to pay for wholesale purchases within 30 days although he was aware that subsequent purchases cannot be made until delinquent accounts are paid.

The testimony was taken at a hearing ordered by the liquor commission on possible suspension or revocation of the Athletic Club's Class C liquor license for alleged violation of the commission's credit rules.

The commission took the case under advisement.

The club was charged on three counts with purchasing liquor from wholesalers and allowing more than 30 days to elapse before paying the bills.

The Athletic Club hearing was one of several scheduled Wednesday for beer and liquor licensees, all involving alleged violations of the credit regulations.

The liquor commission said three of the scheduled hearings were cancelled after the licensees involved entered guilty pleas.

In other action Wednesday, the liquor commission reported the suspension for five days of the retail Class C liquor license of Bohumil Kudlacek of Dwight.

Kudlacek was found guilty after a public hearing of selling beer to a minor July 12, failing to use due diligence to determine the age of the minor. The suspension is to be from Aug. 23 to Aug. 29.

Ramrod-Straight Gen. Henninger Sees 4,000 Guardsmen Pay Tribute

Camp Ripley, Minn. (AP)—Cannon boomed, bugles sounded their plaintive notes, 4,000 men trod the parade ground and the commander of the Fifth Army of the U.S. and top officers of the Nebraska-Iowa National Guard stood at attention Wednesday in honor of Brig. Gen. Guy N. Henninger of Nebraska.

The occasion was a special retreat for the old soldier, who retired July 1 who served 40 years in the Guard. As the 4,000 soldiers of the Guard marched past the reviewing stand, there were more than a few wet eyes as tall, gray-haired Gen. Henninger acknowledged the tribute.

The general said "one is always short of words to express his feelings on an occasion of this kind.

MAJ. GEN. GUY HENNINGER

Twice Mobilized

"I served as adjutant general for 20 and a half years. During that time it was my responsibility to publish the orders mobilizing the Nebraska guard for duty in World War Two and later the Korean incident.

"On both occasions the men of Nebraska committed themselves with honor to themselves, the citizens of Nebraska and their country."

He charged the soldiers, who had come in from 4 days of field duty for this special parade, to march onward with continued honor and distinction.

Special Awards

Gen. Henninger received two special awards.

Maj. Gen. Joseph H. Harper, 5th army commander, praised Henninger for putting the Nebraska Guard in the forefront of Guard units in the nation and presented him with a letter of appreciation from Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander of the Continental Army, who wrote "throughout the years his service played a significant role in assuring the National Guard had the just confidence of the Army of the U.S."

Then Maj. Gen. Lyle Welch, new adjutant general for Nebraska, presented Henninger with a commendation from Gov. Ralph Brooks.

Held Granddaughter's Hand

Gen. Henninger stood ramrod straight, clutching the hand of his 7-year-old granddaughter, Anne Higgins of Lincoln, as the Guard's aircraft units passed overhead in a final salute.

Wednesday night the general was alone with his daughter, Mrs. Vernelle Higgins of Lincoln, and old buddies.

During the night the Guard held the last of its field maneuvers.

Thursday the troops will begin pulling back into camp, Friday they will get an estimated $600,000 in pay and Saturday they will start toward home. All units are expected home by Sunday afternoon or evening.

Wittson, Board Of Control Discuss Mental Clinic's Staff

The Board of Control met throughout Wednesday with Dr. Cecil Wittson of Omaha, director of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute, to discuss different plans for staffing the state's mental health clinics.

Board of Control Member Harold Peterson said no decision was reached on how the staffing problem would be met, but that they were "exploring several possibilities and expect to reach a decision within a week or 10 days."

The clinics are located at Hastings, North Platte and Scottsbluff.

Controversy recently erupted over the Scottsbluff Mental Health Clinic when it was determined the Legislature's Budget Committee had cut out a requested $82,000 appropriation for the clinic this biennium.

Budget Committee Chairman Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln said the committee had learned of the difficulties the Board was having in obtaining a staff and decided the area's mental health needs could be served easier out of the North Platte Clinic.

This brought a volume of protests from the Scottsbluff area with the Board subsequently announcing that the western-most facility would be continued by using whatever funds could be made available from the NPI's community services division.

As a temporary measure, the Board said NPI would service the facility by having Dr. Thaddeus Krush or another psychiatrist from the Omaha area making weekly visits to the Scottsbluff Clinic.

Top Livestock Show Seen For Nebraska Fair

A topnotch livestock show in every department of the 1959 Nebraska State Fair has been predicted by Fair Board Secretary Edwin Schultz.

Although a total count of livestock entries was not available since the entry deadline was at 5 p.m. Wednesday, Schultz said, "it appears that every department will be overflowing in the open classes."

In addition to the regular livestock shows, a National Registered Shetland Pony Show will be held at the 1959 Fair, Schultz said.

IKE AND MAC PLAN RADIO-TV BROADCAST

Gettysburg, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will chat informally over radio and TV Aug. 31 from No. 10 Downing St., the British leader's London residence.

White House press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the two are expected to speak for about 15 to 20 minutes before a dinner Macmillan is giving for Eisenhower that evening.

The broadcast will come just before Eisenhower winds up his Aug. 28 to Sept. 1 conference in Britain and flies to Paris for meetings with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Baruch Is 89

Westbury, N.Y. (UPI) — Elder statesman Bernard Baruch spent his 89th birthday quietly Wednesday at his Long Island home.

Reds Press Deeper Into North Laos

Vientiane, Laos (AP) — Defense Ministry officers said small bands of Communist rebel guerrillas were spreading farther into Sam Neua Province in northern Laos. Skirmishes between government and rebel troops were reported light but frequent.

An independent source recently returned from the troubled region said the rebels are edging around the strongly fortified government post of Muong Peun, southwest of the town of Sam Neua.

The purpose is to link with companies moving in from the other side of the province to cut Sam Neua Province off from the rest of the country and restore Communist control in the north, defense officials said.

"They are penetrating so thoroughly that their movements are criss-crossing ours and it is difficult to keep track of the situation," a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

He said many villages had been emptied of inhabitants as Red forces, made up of tribesmen and troops of the dissolved Pathet Lao Army, passed through.

U.S. Makes Charge

Washington (UPI) — The United States charged that recent statements by the Russian Foreign Office indicate "Soviet complicity" in the outbreak of border fighting in Laos where Red guerrillas have attacked government troops.

The State Department challenged what it called false charges by the Soviets last Monday that the United States has violated the neutrality of Laos by building military bases in the tiny neutral kingdom.

GI Employes File Salary Appeal Brief

A group of Grand Island city employes have filed a brief in the State Supreme Court in an appeal from a case against the city for higher wages.

The wage dispute started in 1958 when the employes and the city of Grand Island were unable to agree on what constitutes "the same labor market area" in the employes claim for wages "comparable" to those paid for similar work in the area.

The state court of industrial relations on May 18, 1959, fixed monthly wage rates for linemen as follows: foreman $420, supervisor $385, first-class lineman $370, second-class lineman $330.

The Court of Industrial Relations overruled a motion for a new trial filed by the linemen, and they appealed.

Mamie Slips Through City

Lincoln usually rolls out the red carpet for famous visitors, but Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower received little attention from Lincolnites when she passed through here Wednesday.

The truth is, however, that no one knew she was here.

Mrs. Eisenhower was aboard a Burlington Railroad train which passed through Lincoln early Wednesday morning en route to Chicago from Denver.

The First Lady had just ended a 6-day stay in Denver, visiting her ailing mother. At Chicago, Mrs. Eisenhower changed trains to go to Washington.

Rockefeller Buys Fiancee A Zither

...'Going To Take It With Us on Honeymoon'

KRISTIANSAND, Norway (AP)—Steven Rockefeller bought his Norwegian fiancee, Anne Marie Rasmussen, a wedding present Wednesday—a zither.

"She can play it," Rockefeller said, proudly, "and we are going to take it with us on the honeymoon."

More wedding presents arrived late in the day brought from the United States by four former college friends of Rockefeller, son of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. The four friends will act as ushers at the wedding next Saturday. They declined to say what the presents were.

Crowd Gathers

Steven and Anne Marie drove into Kristiansand unannounced from her home at Sogne and went to a music store. The word quickly spread and a crowd gathered in front of the store. Some came into the shop. The street choked up with spectators and police were called to clear the jam.

"Too much publicity," Anne Marie protested. The store was cleared and the doors locked while Rockefeller bought the zither, some sheet music and a phonograph record for his bride-to-be.

Steven described the present as a "harpelek zither," a Norwegian version of the instrument.

"Anne Marie has an old one at home," he said, "but it belongs to her parents. We thought it would be nice for her to have one she could take with her."

He said she bought two books of Norwegian folk songs and religious music.

Then he made a quick trip to the tailor for another fitting on the frock coat he will wear at the wedding.

Omahan Usher

The 4 ushers who arrived by air were Jerry Rigg, of Omaha, Neb., Robert Waldron and his wife, Martha, of Rockford, Ill., David Montgomery, of Niagara Falls, and Harold Talbot of New York City.

"They were all roommates of mine at one time or another," Steven said. He attended Deerfield Academy and Princeton University. He said his brothers, Rodman and Michael, also will act as ushers.

Berent Friele, a member of Gov. Rockefeller's staff, and an airline executive, also arrived on the plane.

Mrs. Rockefeller again visited the businessman's Club in Kristiansand where the reception will be held after the wedding. Between 60 and 70 guests have been invited.

"It's going to be a comparatively modest party," said the senior hostess, Bjoerg Faerseth Nodeland. "There have been many others here that were more lavish."

Queen To Head Dollars For Demos

Ralph Queen has been named Lancaster County chairman of the Dollars for Democrats campaign, county Democratic Chairman A. Clifford Anderson announced.

Queen, a Lincoln office supplier, will organize the fund drive which is tentatively set for Sept. 27-Oct. 3.

Anderson has predicted that this year's fund drive will be the "best in my tenure as county Democratic chief." This is due, he said, to "the revitalizing of the party and the success of last year's campaign."

Queen was general chairman of the organization which bac' l Lincoln Mayor Pat Boyles in the mayor's race last May.

Omaha Alcohol Plant Toured By Officials

Nebraska, Iowa Hopes To Persuade Federal Government Withhold Sale

Omaha (AP)—Nebraska and Iowa State officials took a close look Wednesday at the long inactive Omaha alcohol plant.

Their tour was part of an effort of the two states to persuade the federal government to withhold sale of the plant, which was lost operated by the government in 1945 and was closed down entirely 6 years ago.

"I'd hate to think what the people would do if we'd treat state property this way, "commented State Sen. Frank Hoxie of Shenandoah, Ia.

"Something should have been done with it years ago," said Nebraska State Director of Agriculture Pearle Finigan.

"We are trying to determine if there could be some feasible use of the plant in processing farm products for industrial uses," Finigan said. "The State of Nebraska is not interested in buying the plant."

The plant originally housed the Omaha-Council Bluffs Street Railway Company power plant. It was rebuilt by the government at a cost of about $8 million to produce grain alcohol and recover by-products and residual fodder.

The General Services Administration has placed a price tag of $850,000 on it.

Quick Thinking Saves Brother, Suffering Shock

Stella, Neb. (AP) — Delmar Richardson, 20, is recovering in an Auburn hospital thanks to the quick thinking of his brother, Dale.

Delmar suffered a heavy electric shock while helping install a motor in the headhouse at the Stella Grain Company's new elevator, and fell unconscious from a 12-foot steel platform on which he was working. Dale, also working on the job, quickly applied artificial respiration.

Dr. Paul Scott of Auburn, who was called to accident scene, said that without much question the injured man owed his life to the artificial respiration applied by his brother.

81 At Reunion

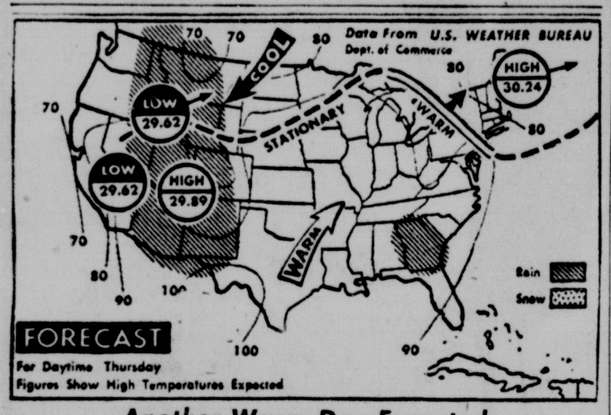
Stanton, Neb. — The annual Hansen family reunion held here was attended by 81 persons. Daniel Monson of Meadow Grove was the oldest member present.

Ag Census Post To Livingston

Washington (AP) — Lloyd O. Livingston of York, Neb., has been appointed a Nebraska field assistant for the agricultural census this fall. Oren E. Cunningham of Grand Island, Neb., was earlier announced as the other field assistant in Nebraska.

Sens. Roman Hruska and Carl T. Curtis, Nebraska Republicans, said the two men will go on duty the last week in August and will have until Oct. 12 to recruit crew leaders in the state.

Livingston, former mayor of York, will be in charge of the census in the Second and Third Congressional Districts and the eastern portion of the First District.



Another Warm Day Expected

Scattered showers or thunderstorms are expected Thursday in Georgia, the Rockies and the western parts of the Great Lakes area. Elsewhere in the country it will be generally fair with mostly sunny skies. It will be warmer in the interior of eastern New York state, Ohio and upper and lower Michigan. Cooler weather is expected in North Dakota and eastern Colorado. There will be little change elsewhere. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Conferees Making Good Progress On Labor Control Bill Compromise

Washington (UPI) — A Senate-House conference committee, making "better than expected" progress, has reached general agreement on 3 more provisions in a compromise labor reform bill.

The 7 senators and 7 House members came to tentative decisions on 3 relatively noncontroversial sections governing reports by union officials and employers, union trusteeships and the election of union officers.

There were no great differences in these provisions of the House Landrum-Griffin reform bill and the milder version approved by the Senate.

Repulicans Pleased

But two senators who favor the House bill — Sens. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) and Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz)— said they were pleased with the progress so far. They said they hoped the committee would be able to plunge into the really big controversial issues Thursday.

In that connection, teamsters President James R. Hoffa, one of the prime targets of the legislation, changed his mind about returning to Detroit from a 3-day union attorneys conference at White Sulphur Springs, W.VA.

He said he intended to be in Washington Thursday because he understood it would be an "important day" in the life of the conference committee. He indicated he expected the group to tackle the knotty problems of the secondary boycott and the so-called "hot cargo" clause.

These provisions are among the most important separating the House and Senate bills. Other major differences include the issues of organizational picketing and the "no man's land" of federal-state jurisdiction over labor disputes.

House Bill Tougher

The House bill would impose far tighter curbs on unions in these fields than would the Senate bill.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chairman of the conference committee, said the group was progressing "better than we expected." But he said he did not expect the committee to finish work on a compromise until next week.

Dirksen said "there is a disposition to get a bill as quickly as possible, and to get a good bill." He said he was "quite optimistic." Goldwater said the committee was "getting along pretty good."

The conferees agreed to put a tight lid of secrecy on details of their deliberations to expedite their work.

The conferees took up noncontroversial items first in their efforts to resolve the differences between the Senate measure and the bill passed by the House last week with the endorsement of President Eisenhower.

Kennedy said he thought enough progress had been made to dispel fears of some legislators that a compromise would be impossible.

Actor 'Unaware' Of Any Tax Debt

New York (UPI) — Kirk Douglas disclaimed any knowledge Wednesday of the government's charge that he and his wife owe $149,519 on their 1955 income tax.

"I pay an awful lot of people an awful lot of money to take care of these things," Douglas said. "You'll have to see them to get the answer."

Political Upsurge Promised

... By AFL-CIO Heads

Forest Park, Pa. (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders said broader union political activity will be the inevitable consequence of stricter labor controls.

They pledged at a strategy meeting of the federation's political organization — the Committee on Political Education (COPE) — to step up organized labor's efforts to help its friends and defeat its enemies at the polls.

The AFL-CIO chiefs frankly consider they have taken major political lickings in the separate labor control bills voted by the House and Senate. They have little hope any compromise legislation finally adopted will suit them much better.

"What happened would indicate we'll have to do much more work," said George Meany, the federation's president.

Ike Sets Speech On Farm Woes

Gettysburg, Pa. (UPI)—President Eisenhower will deliver a nation-wide radio-television speech on farm problems after Congress adjourns. The move apparently is designed to pin the blame on Congress for any lack of farm legislation this year.

The speech was announced by the vacation White House Wednesday after the President had conferred with Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

Benson said he and Eisenhower reviewed the farm situation in the light of indications that the Democratic-controlled Congress "would not deal with basic farm legislation this year." He said the President was deeply concerned and wanted to present "the whole matter to the American people."

With Eisenhower scheduled to leave next week for Europe, the White House made clear that the speech would be aimed at next year's session of Congress.

Let U.S. Know

Benson said it was important for people to understand the present "fiasco" wheat program and other issues so there could at least be action by Congress next year.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-la.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said the plan for Eisenhower's speech was "purely political —no doubt about that."

"The President wants what he demands or nothing, and he's going to get nothing," Ellender said.

Benson said he was optimistic about getting action he considered satisfactory next year because the No. 1 problem, wheat, would worsen in that time. Unless something was done about the wheat program, he said, it would "crash down on our heads."

He noted that the growing surplus was costing $1.5 million a day in storage, interest and handling costs. He said 30% of the federal funds spent bolstering farm income were currently going to the wheat program even though wheat represented only 6% of farm income.

Benson said the President had spoken out 8 times so far this year urging congressional action on wheat.

The administration has suggested that one possible course would be to trim wheat price supports down to the average market price of recent years.

Women Split More Than $13,000 Of Bank's Money Over 8-Year Span

Tyler, Tex. (UP) — Two women, working with the precision of jugglers, bilked the Jacksonville Texas Bank and Trust Co. of $130,516, they admitted to a federal judge Wednesday.

They took the money over an 8-year span, they said, and spent it as they got it.

The money went for living expenses well beyond their modest bank salaries.

The defendants, Miss Yola Renfro, 59, and Mrs. Weldon Conner, 34, will be sentenced Aug. 31.

U.S. Attorney William Steger said the investigation showed the two women embezzled and spent approximately $65,000 each.

Each of the 5 counts to which the women pleaded guilty carries a maximum 5-year prison sentence and fines up to $10,000.

Steger said the women worked as a team. Miss Renfro retained possession of checks which she and Mrs. Conner wrote against their personal accounts until they reached a sizeable amount.

Later she would turn them over to the younger woman, who would withdraw deposit records on dormant accounts. In this way, the bank's books balanced.

Cashier Alvin Shattuck stumbled on the scheme when he demanded the record of a dormant account, and Mrs. Conner fished it out of her handbag.

Mrs. Conner, mother of two adopted children, said her family spent $1,000 a month on a combined salary that averaged $400 over the last 8 years. Her pay had risen to $260 when the bank fired her.

She told her husband the extra money came from an inheritance.

Miss Renfro spent $625 a month, she told investigators, on a salary that averaged $200 a month but finally rose to $325 plus a 15% bonus.

In pleading for leniency, their attorneys argued the women's salaries were low.

"It is generally known that . . . bank personnel are low paid. But that does not give them the right to take money," Federal Judge Joe Sheehy said.

City Firemen Find Extensions, Fuse Boxes Biggest Hazards

Overloaded or improperly wired extension cords and overloaded fuse boxes were the chief fire hazards uncovered by Lincoln firemen during their annual home inspection program, according to Fire Chief Paul Feaster.

Feaster said his men inspected 11,684 homes this summer and found extension cords which had frayed or defective wiring or which were "over plugged" in 1,122 of them.

He said fuse boxes in 829 homes were overloaded. Unsafe home wiring was the third most common hazard. It was found in 204 homes.

Feaster said his men were refused admittance to 1,557 homes and they found no one home at 14,092 locations.

This is the fourth straight year the department has conducted the annual home inspections.

Three firemen work as a team. One stays with the fire apparatus while the other two firemen are inspecting.

If a fire call comes in over the apparatus' radio the other two firemen are summoned and the rig answers the call.

Feaster noted that Lincoln had 374 home fires in 1958 compared with 336 in 1956. He said the slight increase is far behind the city's rapid growth and credited the inspection program with holding the number down.

Airport Kookie Crush Brings Injury To Pair

Atlanta, Ga. (UPI) — Two young girls were cut by falling glass here when an estimated 2,000 teenagers thronged Municipal Airport to welcome TV idol Edward (Kookie) Byrnes.

In the crush a plate glass window enclosing a ramp area buckled, showering pieces of glass on Sandra Sinner and Donna Ginn.

Negro Student At Central Refutes Charge Of Fighting

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Two school board members said Wednesday the only Negro student in Central High School refuted segregationist charges of racial violence behind its doors.

Board members Ted Lamb and Russell Matson met after classes with the Negro, 16-year-old Jefferson Thomas, and several teachers.

"These charges had been made and we wanted to see for ourselves," Lamb said.

Fighting Told

A segregationist leader, the Rev. Wesley Pruden, complained to city authorities about reported fights between Thomas and white students.

Thomas entered and left the school peacefully Wednesday. He returned later for the conference with school officials.

Three Negro girls—Elsie Robinson, Estella Thompson and Effie Jones—attended classes at Hall High School. The Robinson girl said school was "just fine" and classes were "as usual."

Board president Everett Tucker Jr. said on a national television program that more Little Rock people are concluding their choice "is not between integration and segregation but between some degree of desegregation and no public schools at all."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus offered no comment on Little Rock.

On another integration case—at Dollarway school near Pine Bluff, Ark.—he said "Let's wait and see." He had been asked about possible state police or national guard action in event of trouble at Dollarway.

The district is under a federal court order to admit 3 Negroes to its all-white school. The Dollarway Citizens Council has called a rally for Friday night to protest integration.

Slides Plug Yellowstone West Roads

Yellowstone National Park, Wyo. (AP)—All roads in the western half of Yellowstone National Park were still plugged by rock slides Wednesday.

Park rangers say no one is believed trapped underneath the tons of rock which have disrupted traffic in the nation's summer wonderland.

Clearing operations were suspended after a highway crew barely escaped a new slide.

Workers bulldozing a giant rock slide near Mammoth Hot Springs, in the northern section of the park, scattered to safety when their heavy machinery and a slight earth tremor touched off another cascade of boulders.

Park rangers said efforts to clear dozens of slides in narrow canyons would be held off until the threat of further earth tremors subsides. About 75 miles of road are closed.

Geyser Inn Open

The west wing of Old Faithful Inn, one of the historic hotels in the park, was reopened after a safety inspection by engineers. The east wing of the 400-room structure was kept closed, however. Rangers said considerable damage was done when a water main burst and sprayed the interior of the building.

The park service said all roads in the eastern half of the park are open.

Giantess Geyser, which erupts only once every 6 months, was active after the earthquake but park officials said the geyser's eruption was overdue. They said it was not known if the earthquake had anything to do with the geyser's delay.

Old Faithful Geyser is continuing to spout its steam and water every 63 minutes.

Honored At Pi Beta Phi Coffee

The Lincoln alumnae of Pi Beta Phi were hostesses at a coffee Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Kent Morgan honoring members of the sorority who are newcomers to the city or who are leaving Lincoln in the near future to make their homes elsewhere.

Included among the honored guests at the "hail and farewell" affair were (seated from the left) Mrs. Fred Chase, who with her husband and daughter is moving to Omaha: Mrs. William B. Edmondson of Arlington, Va., who is a guest in town; and Mrs. G. W. Billmyer, who with her family leaves soon for her new home in Oklahoma City.

Town Talk

—There are, of course, easier methods to return to the Mainland after a summer in Hawaii than swimming. Woody and Chip Haecker, sons of Mrs. George Haecker, found one. Actually, we suspect the journey home is a bit more on the plush side than the trip over. They are aboard a yacht. The yacht itself would be exciting enough were it not for the fact that the mode of transportation is somewhat eclipsed by the yacht's owner—He is none other than James A. Michener, the author of "Tales of the South Pacific" upon which the famous "South Pacific" was based. Mr. Michener and his crew, including the Haecker boys, have been sailing for about two weeks now, and we hear there is the possibility it may take another two weeks before the yacht is safely anchored at home port.

* * *

—Strictly land travelers were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Kreischer and their four sons, Peter, Robert, Lawrence and David, who arrived from San Diego, Calif., earlier this week to spend a few days as the guests of Mrs. Kreischer's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. M. Thomson.

* * *

—And from the opposite direction — Washington D.C. have come Mr. and Mrs. William B. Edmondson, their daughter Barbara and son Paul, who will divide their until-September stay in Nebraska between Mrs. Edmondson's parents, Col. and Mrs. Doane Kiechel of Lincoln, and Mr. Edmondson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Edmondson of Peru.

Mrs. Edmondson will be remembered as the former Donna Kiechel, Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska.

And just in case you didn't know — Mr. Edmondson is an African affairs specialist with the Department of State.

* * *

—Also on the guest list this week is Mrs. E. A. Baldwin of Riverside, Calif., formerly of Lincoln, who arrived on Wednesday evening for a brief visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Benjamin.

* * *

—News of the late week involves bride-elect Miss Sandra Schlaebitz and her fiance, Harry F. Dingman, Jr., whose marriage will be solemnized on Saturday, Aug. 22.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schlaebitz will pay prenuptial courtesy to their daughter and Mr. Dingman when they entertain at dinner at the University Club. Places will be arranged for 30 and the guest list will include the members of the families and the bridal party.

Polish Stitch-In-Time Technique

Holding an informal meeting "just for fun" on Wednesday evening were the members of the Mrs. JayCees sewing and crafts interest group who were guests at the home of Mrs. Robert Becker

Although the various interest groups of the Mrs. JayCees, an organization for the wives of Junior Chamber of Commerce members, have been meeting during the summer months, the fall season of activities will not begin until September.

Honored

A guest of honor recently was Mrs. Jack Truax who was presented a baby shower at a tea for which Mrs. Harry E. McEntarffer was hostess at her home. Eight guests were invited for the informal party.

Fun News From Suburbia

EASTBOROUGH

The welcome mat is out this morning for some new residents in Eastborough who have moved here from San Francisco, Calif. They are Sgt. and Mrs. John L. Norris and their three sons, John, James and Jeffrey. They moved into their new residence at 7143 So. Eldora on Aug 5.

Residents in Eastborough will be sorry to bid their farewells to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Curtis and their three sons, Jerry, Jimmy and Randy, who will be leaving Friday morning. The Curtis family is leaving their home at 356 Prestwick Rd. and will be going to Austin, Tex., to reside.

Understand that a guest in the suburb last week end was Mrs. Edmund Juilfs of Sterling who visited her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smay, and their sons, Stephen, Michael and Kevin. Mrs. Juilfs left on Tuesday to return home and was accompanied by her grandson, Stephen, for a short visit.

And arriving on Monday for a visit in the suburb with her sister, Mrs. E. H. Dierks, was Mrs. Peter Van Geyt of Indianapolis, Ind. An added incentive for Mrs. Van Geyt's trip to Lincoln was the opportunity to visit with her nephew, William Cartmell, Mrs. Cartmell and their children, Ricky and Barbara, of Scottsdale, Aliz., who are the late summer houseguests of Mrs. Cartmell's parents, Mr. and Mr. Richard Kimball.

MEADOW LANE

A warm welcome is extended this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baker who have moved into their new home at 1035 Lancaster Lane. Mr. and Mrs. Baker formerly lived in Fullerton.

Returning recently from a trip to the Black Hills were Mr. and Mrs. Gale D. Collins.

Mention of the Black Hills reminds us that Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wismer also recently returned from a camping trip there. They were gone a week.

Postcards are arriving in Meadow Lane from different spots in Europe, and chances are, they are from Mr. and Mrs. William H. Maehl and their two daughters, Madeline and Kathleen. The Maehl family has been touring Europe all summer. Accompanying them have been Mrs. Maehl's parents. They plan to return sometime in September.

Summer Wedding

The wedding of Miss Judy Schmaljohn, daughter of Mrs. Daidy Schmaljohn, and John Rice, son of Mr and Mrs. Jack Rice of Stoughton, Mass., took place on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 2, at the Raymond Presbyterian Church. The lines of the 4 o'clock service were ready by the Rev. Mr. Hollingsworth.

Miss Sharon Schmaljohn attended her sister as maid of honor, and the flower girl was Miss Rosemary Schmaljohn, also a sister of the bride.

Serving as best man was Richard Treadway of Omaha, and the ushers were Raymond Kowaleski of Loup City, and Frank Schmaljohn of Rockville, brother of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather G. T. Green of Raymond.

A receiption was held in the church parlors. Following a short wedding trip, the couple will reside at Stoughton, Mass.

Dear Abby . . .

Let Them Decide

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of mine gave her 9-year-old daughter a birthday party in her back yard and didn't invite my little girl. They are the same age an play together every day.

When I saw all the other playmates dressed up in their party dresses, laughing and having the best time, I couldn't believe my eyes. My little girl felt so bad she cried. I was all choked up myself but pretended I didn't care.

Should I let my daughter go over there and play with that neighbor girl? I used to like my neighbor, but now I have no use for her. Would you? VERY HURT

DEAR VERY: It is almost impossible to keep youngsters from playing with the neighbor children, so don't attempt it. It's difficult to know whether the mother didn't want your daughter at the party or if her child had a temporary "mad" on at the time. If the girls want to play together, I'd say let them, and forget the unhappy incident.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My buddy always used to say he didn't have the nerve to ask a girl for a date so I'd let him come along with me and my girl. The three of us would have a real good time. At Christmas I gave my girl a set of rings (the wedding band to be used when I get out of service next year) and she liked them a lot. I thought I was in paradise!

Now she and my buddy came to me and asked if it would be all right if my buddy took over my girl and the payments on the rings. She says it's him she wants, not me. And he said the reason he never went out with any other girl was because he loved my girl all along. Should I leave them in peace or should I kick up the kind of fuss they deserve? DOUBLE-CROSSED

DEAR DOUBLE: The damage is done. Let your buddy have the girl and take over the payments on the rings (and be sure he repays you the amount you've paid on the rings so far.) Next time you think you are in "paradise" — watch out for the snakes.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I noticed in your column that a woman had a terrible time with a husband who cursed and used vulgar language. Let me tell you how I cured mine of this habit.

Every time he cussed or said something vulgar I charged him 25 cents. Each time there was a violation I totaled it verbally.

When he reached $25.00 I went out and bought something for myself and charged it to him. It worked!

MRS. A. C. C.

MRS. RICHARD LEMORE RADLEY

The marriage of Miss Jo-Ann Arlene Wilhelm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene K. Wilhelm of Nebraska City, to Richard Lemore Radley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Radley of Pueblo, Colo., took place on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 16, at the Bethel Evangelical and Reformed Church in Nebraska City. The Rev. Alfred Rinne solemnized the double ring ceremony before a background of pale blue and white asters.

Ballerina-length frocks of silk organza, in the cotillion blue shade, were chosen for the attendants including Miss Ardelle Wilhelm, her sister's maid of honor; and bridesmaids Miss Adelene Baum of Tecumseh; Miss Rachel Lillish of Carleton, and Mrs. Randolph Clark of Lincoln. Elaine Ritter was the flower girl, and the rings were carried by Ricky Shallenberger. Bill Shallenberger and Kenneth Buchanan lighted the candles.

Warren Curtis of Pueblo, Colo., served as best man, and the ushers were Myron Pearson of Pueblo; Wayne Weible of Tecumseh, and Randolph Clark of Lincoln.

The bride appeared in a gown of pure silk organza and imported Chantilly lace. Jeweled lace formed an overlay for the Elizabethan designed bodice with a Sabrina neckline patterned of jewelled lace, and long lace sleeves. The ornamented lace was repeated in applique motifs on the bouffant skirt of organza which extended into an aisle-wide train.

Following a honeymoon trip to Lake Okoboji Mr. Radley and his bride will reside in Pueblo.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority. Mr. Radley is a graduate of Western State College, Gunnison, Colo. Both will be members of the Pueblo public schools faculty this year.

MRS. RODGER W. THOMPSON

For the wedding of Miss Sonja Ann Dahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dahl, and Rodger W. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Thompson, which took place Sunday evening, Aug. 16, white and yellow gladioli and lighted white candles decorated the chancel of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. M. W. Deming.

Miss Sylvia Dahl attended her sister as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Carol Buck and Miss Eunice Buck. The attendants' alike frocks of embroidered taffeta in the gold tone were fashioned with full skirts in the daytime length, and they carried bouquets of white and bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Kay Bennet and Miss Gail Wiener, in green brocaded taffeta, lighted the candles, and the flower girl was Miss Sherry Grundset of Coloma, Mich.

Serving his brother as best man was Vernon Thompson of Brighton, Colo., and the ushers were Wesley Welch, Jim Green, James Syfert and Delbert Conrad. Michael Thompson carried the Bible.

The bride appeared in a gown of white nylon organza over taffeta. Appliques of sequined lace framed the portrait neckline of the long-sleeved bodice, and were repeated in the trim of the full skirt. A tiara of jeweled taffeta held her illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations centered with an orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will make their home in Lincoln.

UAW Probe:

Pay-Offs Alleged By Exec

Washington (UPI)—A New York businessman told the Senate Rackets Committee in secret testimony made public Wednesday that his firm paid about $70,000 to officials of the United Auto Workers and other unions for helping it get business.

John D. Dale, head of the George Elliott Co., said some $63,000 went to Peter Zvara of Toledo, O., who was ousted this year as a UAW international representative.

Zvara involved earlier in a New York grand jury investigation of the alleged payment, invoked the fifth amendment's protection against self-incrimination when asked about the matter.

Zvara also refused to say whether he split his take with some of the "the boys" in Toledo, including Richard Gosser, senior vice president of the UAW.

Asserts Innocence

Gosser denied that he got "one penny" of the money.

In other testimony, Gosser was accused by dissident UAW members of taking salary kickbacks from union employes, of threatening UAW members who crossed him and of backing some pro-Communist union officials. Gosser also denied these charges.

The testimony was taken during a 3-day closed-door hearing conducted by the committee last week. The committee decided later to release the transcript and to hold the rest of the inquiry in public.

The date for resuming the investigation depends upon when committee members now trying to hammer out a compromise labor reform bill are available.

Rep. McGinley Explains Vote On Labor Bill

Representative Donald F. McGinley (D-4th) explained his vote against the House passed Landrum-Griffin labor bill in a letter to his constituents Wednesday.

McGinley voted against the bill in a roll call test which the bill passed 229-201, then switched his vote during a formal tally the next day. President Eisenhower made a nation-wide TV appeal for support of the Landrum-Griffin measure.

McGinley said the Landrum bill still may contain a "no man's land" covered by neither federal nor state legislation.

McGinley originally supported a middle-of-the-road labor bill introduced by the House Labor Committee rather than the tough Landrum-Griffin measure.

McGiley's letter also stated next year Congress will devote much attention to the amendment of the Taft-Hartley Act.

LINCOLN WILL KEEP CHIEFS

Local Group Backs Club

By Don Bryant

Professional baseball's future in Lincoln was given a tremendous boost Wednesday afternoon when it was announced that the Lincoln Chiefs definitely plan to operate in 1960.

Pres. A. Q. Schimmel, following a meeting of the Chief's executive committee and Hal Totten, president of the Three-I League, said:

"The executive committee of the Lincoln Chiefs unanimously voted to recommend to the board of directors that the Chiefs operate again in 1960.

'Are Very Happy'

"We are very happy with our association with the working agreement relations with the Chicago White Sox and are looking forward to continued associations with both for a long time."

Schimmel also reported that the Chiefs will extend an invitation to Bill Veeck, president of the White Sox, to visit Sherman Field before the 1959 season ends.

Asked if the announcement was only a preliminary move, contingent on further developments this year, Schimmel said:

"This is a definite statement of intent and we have assured Mr. Totten that Lincoln will operate in the Three-I League next year."

Schimmel, acknowleding that lack of attendance has hurt the club financially this year, said the directors made the decision because "the bulk of the major expenses have already been incurred, while considerable money is still payable to the Chiefs."

Revenue Sources

The Lincoln prexy said there are 5 sources of revenue available to the club yet this season: (1) the major league fund (2) additional working agreement payments from the White Sox (3) guarantee deposit from the National Association (4) gate receipts and (5) concession receipts."

Lincoln has 10 more openings this season and several top-notch promotions are lined up next week.

"We made our recommendation for two basic reasons," Schimmel said. "First, we will be able to take care of all our 1959 financial obligations, and secondly, the board appreciates the fact that a number of Lincoln fans stuck by the club all year.

"We feel they have demonstrated that there is a desire for professional baseball in Lincoln and we owe it to them to continue. We are not in any way mad at Lincolnites who have not visited Sherman Field, but we are deeply appreciative of those who have helped us provide good baseball in Lincoln."

Totten Is Pleased

Totten said he was "extremely happy" about Lincoln's decision to operate next season, and he added:

"Baseball fans in Lincoln have been given a fine treat—for the first time in many years they have been assured in August that they'll definitely have a team the next year."

The league president concurred in the Lincoln's group analysis of the current situation.

"The financial situation is such that it shouldn't stand in the way of 1960 plans," he said. Lincoln's finances—admittedly low because of decreased attendance — have been handled very well. They are in much better shape than could be expected, under the circumstances, and this is a credit to the fine management of General Manager Roger Bottorff, Mr. Schimmel and the board of directors."

Tribute To Fans

Totten also paid tribute to the Lincoln fans. Referring to his Monday and Tuesday night visits to Sherman Field, he said:

"Baseball interest in Lincoln certainly is not dead and I can't believe there is true apathy here. Lincoln fans are among the finest I've seen anywhere—enthusiastic, well-informed and clean-cut.

AUSSIE PAIR GET A SCARE

Brookline, Mass (AP) — Ageless Gardner Mulloy and his young partner Jack Frost forced a pair of Australian Davis Cuppers to 5 sets today before bowing in the National Doubles tennis tourney.

Robert Mark and Rodney Laver, the second-seeded foreign team in the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association's national doubles tourney, outlasted the 45-year-old Mulloy and Frost 12-10, 3-6, 5-7, 6-3 and 6-4 in the longest match of the tourney so far.

South Names Starters For All-Star Contest

By Al Beebe

Boys Town—South coaches named offensive and defensive starting lineups Wednesday as drills tapered off for the first Shrine Bowl All-Star game in Omaha Saturday night.

Neither South head mentor Skip Palrang of Boys Town, nor North Coach Jerry Lee of Grand Island, will send their teams through hard scrimmages from now until game time. Both teams will continue to work on offensive and defensive assignments.

Lee, with his North charges in Fremont, has not yet named a starting team, but announced Dick Stivers and Carl Meyers, both Creighton Prep, are co-captains.

Palrang named an offensive backfield which averages a hefty 184 pounds, along with a line averaging 182, for a 183 team offensive average. On defense, the line averages 183, the backs 171, for a team mark of 177.

Omaha South placed a pair of lads in the offensive backfield, quarterback John Faiman (190) and halfback Godfrey Calta (185). Rod Brethower (170) of Imperial gets the right half nod while Falls City's Larry Stednitz (190) starts at tailback.

Across the line it will be Jack Kiscoan (180), Omaha South; Bill Drost (205), Ogallala; Alan Rada (176), Fairbury; Ron Eissler (185), Omaha South; Mike Peterson (160), Holdrege; Jerry Downing (180), Hastings; and Frank Bosiljevac (190), Omaha South.

Defensive ends will be Bob Lockwood (185) of Beatrice and Lincoln High's Joe Moore (165). Tackles are Jerry Goedert (190) of Hastings and Charles Portenier (195) of Alma. At guard, Don Osdiek (199) of Lawrence and Mick Nichols (174) of Ogallala gets the nod.

Linebackers are Charles Dickerson (165) of Omaha Central and Holdrege's Win Peterson (170). Tom Winscott (175) of Plattsmouth is safetyman and the defensive halfbacks are Dick Harr (173) of Lincoln Southeast and Ron Ritterbush (170), Cozad.

The Rebel squad is due to learn today whether Tom Moore, 210-pound tackle from Omaha South, will be able to play after a knee injury. Jim Phinney, big McCook end, will probably be hampered by injury.

Assisting Palrang are Jess Keifer of Holdrege, Plattsmouth's Bill Hawkins, and Vince Aldrich from Pius X.

Over in the North camp, a tentative starting lineup might find Scottsbluff's Larry Krause at center, Stivers and either Dwain Carlson of Fullerton or Laurel's John Haskell at guard, Ron Devish of Broken Bow and West Point's Bob Jones at tackle, and ends Frank Schamp of Ord and Larry Donovan of Scottsbluff or Fremont's Mic Drum.

The backfield will probably have Meyers at quarterback, Tom Ernst of Columbus at left half, and the Grand Island pair, Ed Richards and Roger Meyers, at fullback and right half.

North assistants are Don Watchorn of Schuyler, Fremont's Art Ronhovde, and Don Leahy of Creighton Prep.

HAPPY HAROLD PICKS:

Harold

(Editor's Note: Winning at the races is just a matter of using a little horse sense. Recognizing this, the Star sports staff continues to bring you Happy Harold, whose Fairground selections are guaranteed to come straight from the horse's mouth.)

This being my lazy day, I awoke late for breakfast only to find that someone had fermented my oats. Suspicious, I looked around and saw Clocker Charlie lurking in the shadows, rubbing his palms in anticipation.

"For shame, Charlie!" I cried. "Doping a horse is highly unethical."

Crestfallen, Charlie admitted he was only trying to loosen my tongue. Said he thought I might be holding out on him.

At first I gnashed my teeth in rage, but after bolting the oats I decided I'd be a good sport and give Charlie my picks for Thursday after all.

Orioles Slow Chisox Drive In AL Chase

Chicago (AP) — Billy O'Dell and Jerry Walker slowed down the pennant pace of the White Sox here Wednesday, holding the American League leaders to 5 hits as they pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 3 to 1 victory. O'Dell pitched 8 innings in the extreme heat then let Walker finish the job.

The loss was only the second for the White Sox in their last 18 games at Comiskey Park. They went into the game with a home record of 15 victories, one defeat and one tie.

KEEPING SCORE

With Al Beebe

Star Sports Staff Writer

No Coaching Victory

Skip Palrang of Boys Town and Jerry Lee of Grand Island long ago established their quality in the Nebraska prep coaching profession.

The pair of Shrine Bowl coaches are, without question, the top two in the state. The outcome of Saturday's game in Omaha will not place one above the other, no matter who wins.

But the North and South All-Star camps have provided an interesting comparison in the coaching styles of the pair.

Both Strict Disciplinarians

Neither Lee nor Palrang is likely to let a boy get away with any shenannigans. They are both strict disciplinarians.

Both are also extremely hard workers, and they work their charges the same way.

Palrang, however, seems to be more of an optimist than Jerry. The Boys Town mentor is quick to praise his boys, and, for publication at least, will ignore their faults and shortcomings.

Lee, although not one to criticize or tear a player down for the press, is also not one to praise his players particularly. Jerry is reticent to speak about his chances.

Both sincerely want to win this game, and are doing their darnedest to do it.

Stednitz Pleasant Surprise

Falls City suffered through its worst athletic year in history last year, but the Tigers' Larry Stednitz is one of the bright spots in the South camp.

Picked as the probable No. 3 fullback, Stenditz earned the starting offensive nod from Palrang. The 190-pounder is a tough workhorse.

Assistant coach Bill Hawkins says "I told them so." Stednitz ripped Hawkins' Plattsmouth team for 5 touchdowns last year.

Lincoln Boys Show Well

Lincoln's contribution to the South squad, Dick Harr of Lincoln Southeast and Lincoln High's Joe Moore, have both shown up well.

Harr will start at defensive halfback, and drew high praise from the coaches. Moore gets a defensive end nod, and also is well-liked, proving tougher than thought on defense and an adept pass-catcher.

The 8-man football players in the camp are all proving good gridders, but should have more time to adept to the 11-man game. That's why their greatest use will be on defense, where the difference is not as great.

The All-Star coaches have learned to sympathize with those who pick press All-Star teams. They know it's an impossible job, with a few real "duds" in both camps.

Big 6th Frame Helps Lincoln

By Don Bryant

Lincoln's Chiefs had quite a time with Burlington pitcher Joe DiGiacomo at Sherman Field Wednesday night before finally pulling out a 9-6 win before the 520 Labor Night fans.

First they bombarded him with 5 hits and took a 3-0 lead in the first.

Then the soft-tossing Bee blanked the Chiefs for 4 innings while Burlington moved ahead and sent Al Brice to the showers.

Five-Runs Score

Finally DiGiacomo's lobs and wildness caught up with him and he presented the Chiefs with a 5-run 6th inning and the victory margin.

Bryant Wasdell, who relieved Brice in the Bee's 3-run 6th, allowed only one hit and a single run in picking up his 4th win of the campaign.

The Chiefs and the Bees wind up the homestand at Sherman Field tonight, following the annual Chiefs' Wives vs. Players game. The prelim will start at 7 p.m., with the main event going at 8:15. Ronnie Bloodworth (8-13) will pitch for Lincoln.

Hurler On Ropes

Wednesday night it looked like the Chiefs would drive DiGiacomo to cover in the first frame. Pug Williamson's 2-run single and Deacon Jones' double were the key blows for Lincoln.

But after that the Chiefs were spellbound by the easy-dealing lefthander until the 6th.

All told there were 21 walks (12 by 3 Burlington pitchers, 6 by Brice and 3 by Wasdell), 6 wild pitches (all by Bee hurlers) 3 hit batsmen (2 by DiGiacomo and one by Brice.)

Burlington narroed the gap in the 4th by plating a pair, and the Bees disposed of Brice in the 6th, moving in front 5-3 with the aid of 3 walks and a single.

Scoring Is Easy

Lincoln just waited in the home 6th as DiGiacomo hit Wasdell and Chuck Lehman in succession, then walked a pair before Williamson drove in two more runs with a single and two wild pitches brought in an additional pair.

Each club managed single runs in the 7th.

Burdette, who has lost 12, surrendered only 6 hits in defeating the Giants for the 4th time this season to enable the 3rd-place Braves to move within 3 games of first-place.

Moore Halts Kid In 11th

Los Angeles (AP)—World featherweight champion Davey Moore retained his title here Wednesday night when he stopped Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria in the 11th of a scheduled 15-round fight.

Moore, 126, had the ex-champion in bad shape at the close of the 10th round and Bassey, 125, was unable to come out for the 11th.

It goes into the record as an 11th-round knockout because the bell had sounded before the fight was stopped.

Moore, of Springfield, O., dethroned Bassey for the title when he stopped him in 13 rounds in this same Olympic Auditorium March 18.

Bassey's right eye was badly swollen and bruised from the machine-gun-fire left hooks and jabs. The ex-champion also suffered a cut at the corner of the left eyebrow in the second round. It bled but did not hamper his efforts too much.

The 25 year-old Yankee went all out in the 10th to score a clean knockout.

Bassey opened the round with a swinging right, but in a moment Dave looped a right to the head that spun Bassey around. Bassey's glove touched the mat but he did not appear in too much distress at this stage.

Moore, sensing victory in his first defense of the 126-pound title, tore in. He rocked Hogan The Kid with stunning lefts and rights and had Bassey hanging on desperately in a neutral corner.

Bassey retreated down the ropes toward his own corner, with Davey continuing his relentless head attack. Bassey was getting rubbery on his feet. The bell sounded, sparing him then.

Bassey Manager Asks Ex-Champion To Quit

Los Angeles (AP) — The manager of Hogan (Kid) Bassey said here Wednesday night he will ask the ex-featherweight champion to retire. Bassey had just been defeated by Davey Moore.

Bassey arrived at a press party with dark glasses hiding his swollen right eye and a bandage over a badly bruised right hand. He admitted that manager George Biddles had suggested he call his fighting career quits.

CARDS-BUCS DIVIDE TWO

Chiefs Will Operate In Lincoln Next Year

. . . Executives' Meeting Confirms 1960 Plans

(Cont. from p. 21)

"Monday night their club was almost no-hit, yet the local fans were pulling for the visiting pitcher and were dis-appointed when he didn't get it. Tuesday night they got to see a fine rally and really made a lot of noise. Ronnie Bloodworth got a tremendous ovation when he was introduced to receive his perfect game trophy—and the Lincoln fans cheered several great fielding plays made by the visitors.

"Lincoln is a good baseball town and the Three-I League is proud and happy the Chiefs have declared their 1960 intentions, and we're looking forward to a long and happy association."

Both Totten and Schimmel felt that the change in major league afilliations had hurt Lincoln somewhat, but predicted increased interest next year.

"After several years with Pittsburgh, Lincoln fans got to know many of the players," Totten said. "But the Chicago players were strangers. Next year they'll be more familiar with the White Sox organization."

★ ★ ★

CONDITION DESCRIBED BY TOTTEN

Hal Totten, president of the Three-I League, Wednesday afternoon presented this picture of 1960 plans after Lincoln announced it intended to operate:

Lincoln—With money receiveable still to come and gate receipts for the rest of the 1959 season, the Chiefs can meet all obligations. Good working agreement with the Chicago White Sox.

Des Moines — Already passed 1958 attendance by large margin and in good shape. Working agreement with Philadelphia Phillies.

Topeka — Recently announced it will operate in 1960. Working agreement with Cincinnati Reds.

Green Bay — Attendance off, but not hurt too much financially. Plan to build club houses and additional fence signs for 1960. Working agreement with Los Angeles Dodgers.

Fox Cities—Plans to add grandstand roof and box seats and enlarge outfield for 1960. Working agreement with Washington Senators.

Burlington—Ready to go. Didn't sell many "cheap" tickets this year and in better shape regarding cash and concessions. Working agreement with Chicago Cubs.

Cedar Rapids — "Solid citizen" of league. Working agreement with Milwaukee Braves.

Sioux City — Assured by park owner Adam Pratt that it's ready to go in 1960.

Rock Labels Ring Return As 'Untrue'

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Rocky Marciano, who retired as undefeated heavyweight champion 3 years ago, Wednesday denied he plans to return to the ring to fight Ingemar Johansson for the title next June.

The former champion labeled as "untrue" a story in a national magazine (Argosy) that he plans a comeback against Johansson.

"Nobody has any authority to quote me or commit me to anything that dangerous," Marciano told the Miami News by telephone from New Orleans, where he is to speak on juvenile delinquency.

"I haven't read the article yet, but from what I've been told is in it, it's untrue," Marciano said.

State Horseshoe Tourney Slated

Kimball, Neb. (AP) — The Nebraska State Horseshoe pitching tournament will be held at Kimball Sept. 5 and 6 at the Lu Siebenaler Memorial Court.

Cash prizes and trophies will be awarded in 3 divisions as Don McCance of Gothenburg, state champion, defends his title.

Qualifying rounds will be pitched Saturday, Sept. 5. The tourney will get under way at 10 a.m. Sunday for B and C classes. Class A will start at 2 p.m.

Guess What—OU Is Big 8's Favorite

Lawrence, Kan. (UPI) — Oklahoma again is an overwhelming favorite to win the Big 8 Conference football championship, a poll of league sportswriters and broadcasters indicated Wednesday.

Nebraska was picked as 4th-place finisher.

Missouri was a heavy favorite to finish second and Kansas was chosen as probable 3rd-place tenant.

Colorado was picked for 5th. Kansas State for 6th, and Iowa State for 7th.

Oklahoma State will not compete for the Big 8 title until 1960.

Only 4 out of the 84 so-called "experts" participating in the poll picked Oklahoma to finish as low as second. A 5th voted for a Missouri-Oklahoma tie.

The 4 who didn't think Oklahoma could win a 12th outright Big 8 title gave their votes for first place to Missouri.

Fifty-three voted for Missouri to finish second, a position which would carry the Tigers to the Orange Bowl as Oklahoma will be ineligible to return.

Decision 'To Guard Student Interest'

. . . School Boards Must Pay High School Tuition

School boards of annexing districts setting up high schools must pay tuition for students already enrolled in other high schools, the attorney general said Wednesday.

The opinion was written on amendments to the free high school education statutes included in LB582 of the 1959 Legislature.

"This amendment is designed to permit a high school student who has started to one school to finish his schooling in that school even though the school district of his residence becomes a part of another high school district by annexation or merger," Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck and Assistant Atty. Gen. Gerald S. Vitamvas said.

Preserves Continuity

"The interest being protected by the act is that of the student. It preserves to him a certain continuity of high school education in a school wherein he is familiar with the teachers and the other students.

"Were this merely permissive upon the school board of the annexing district, it is doubtful that their permission could ever be received. The school board has been given the power to pay this tuition. The student through his parents may insist that the school board of the annexing district pay this tuition even though the wording of the statute is permissive," the opinion said.

The amendment, however, does not apply to an annexing district which remains a Class I district without a high school. It also applies only to districts annexing another district after the effective date of the act, and is not retroactive.

The opinion was written on questions by F. B. Decker, state commissioner of education.

'No Decision' Yet On NPPS Rate Differences

Lincoln Star Special

Kearney—After a day of "long, hard discussion" on present differences over the Nebraska Public Power System's proposed new rates scheduled to go into effect Sept. 1, the NPPS board of managers reached "no decision" Wednesday, but "progress" was reported.

Dewey J. DeBoer, executive director of NPPS, said the 6-member board of managers had come up with some "new ideas" which will be presented to NPPS' governing boards of directors "in the coming week."

The Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District and Loup River Public Power District comprise NPPS which provides power supplies for the eastern two-thirds of the state.

Members of the NPPS board of managers, which acts as an advisory body, is composed of DeBoer, and one representative each from Loup and Platte, and 3 representatives of the 26 REA's served by NPPS.

The 3 rural representatives, A. L. Chantry of West Point, Ed Koza of Lexington and Lester Trussell of Beatrice, recently revealed differences with other members of the board of managers on NPPS' proposed rate schedule.

The Kearney meeting Wednesday, the group's regularly scheduled August meeting, was one of several held in recent weeks in an attempt to iron out differences on the new rate schedule.

One rural district, the York County Rural Public Power District, has filed a suit in the Platte County District Court in protest of NPPS' proposed new rate schedule.

York has asked both a temporary and permanent injunction against NPSS new rates on the grounds that they are "unfair, unreasonable and discriminatory" to York.

A hearing on the suit has been set for Friday at Columbus.

County's Polio Count Now 24

Lancaster County's polio cases reached a total of 24 Wednesday when lab reports showed the illness of Jack Mares, 33, of Lincoln to have been a mild case of polio, according to Morris Siegel, Lancaster County Chapter president of the National Foundation.

Mares was hospitalized last month, but was released.

Hearings On Convair Drop Requested

Scottsbluff (AP) — City Manager Carsten Leikvold said Wednesday both the city and State Department of Aeronautics have sent letters to the Civil Aeronautics Board asking for informal hearings on the dropping of Convair service here.

Frontier Air Lines plan to fly over Scottsbluff with Convairs on central Nebraska routes, beginning Sept. 1.

State Aeronautics Director Jack D. Obbink earlier this month registered his objections to the service change with Frontier officials and promised to "pursue the matter" through whatever channels he finds necessary.

Obbink told J. Dan Brock, Frontier vice president in charge of traffic and sales, that Scottsbluff would not be adequately served without the Convair flight and said the service does not comply with CAB orders in the 7 states case.

Brock said the change was ordered as part of an overall readjustment of schedules to better serve Nebraska needs, and by reason of a shortage of the Convair type of aircraft.

Boy, 9, Spent 5 Days Living In Open; Ate Fruit, Slept In Barns

Omaha (AP) — A 9-year-old runaway boy who had been hunted for 5 days told Wednesday how he had lived in the open, subsisted on fruit and fed two cats by raiding garbage cans.

The boy, Michael Eberly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eberly, was spotted by a motorist Wednesday morning and the sheriff's office was notified.

Ran Away Friday

Michael's parents and sheriff's deputies had been searching for him since he ran away at noon Friday. Civil Air Patrol pilots also had searched from the air Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Eberly said Michael ran away after his father ordered him to stay in his room for two days as punishment for fighting with his sister.

The boy filled a duffel bag with a blanket, 3 jackets, a pair of tennis shoes, pajamas, a raincoat, extra jeans, all his underwear and skillet.

He went over the hill-a rise behind his house and into the wooded area to the north.

"I ate plums, apples and berries. I wasn't hungry," Michael said.

Two cats came along. Michael said he kept them on a rope leash and found sour milk for them from garbage cans.

He said he slept in barns, changing into his pajamas each night until the bottoms became torn.

No Place To Wash

Although he changed his clothes regularly he didn't wash. "Where you gonna wash out there?"

The only wild animal he saw was a skunk and "I stayed clear of him."

When Michael was brought home he asked for a bacon and tomato sandwich.

"It was the biggest relief in my life," said Mrs. Eberly.

There are 4 other children in the family.

Battling Forest Fire Is Fatal

Hastings, Neb. — Word has been received here of the death of Michael Edwards, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buryl Edwards of Anaheim, Calif., formerly of Hastings.

The youth died of injuries received while fighting a forest fire in California. He was an employe of the U.S. Forestry Service. Surviving in addition to his parents are two brothers, Steven and Blaine, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Simmerman and Mrs. Pansy Edwards, all of Hastings.

Nebraska Popcorn Proclaimed 'Nation's Finest'

North Bend, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska popcorn is just about the finest in the nation, says Jim Blevins, head of Tennessee processing firm.

Nebraska's popcorn acreage this year dropped to 15,000 acres.

Brooks Seeks Recruits For Safety Battle

Omaha (UPI) — Governor Brooks Wednesday recruited business, education and religious leaders to join his battle against traffic accidents.

The Governor, on the eve of his traffic safety conference here, spent a good part of the day on the telephone, extending personal invitations to leaders in these fields.

"Traffic safety," he said, "is a vital problem that Nebraskans have failed to solve." He said, however, that they expended more effort in the past eight months than ever before.

The tentative program lined up for the Thursday meeting indicated that influences of churches and schools will be utilized in the traffic campaign.

Dr. Francis M. Hurst, University of Omaha, will moderate a panel on "Accelerated Safety Programs in Schools, Colleges and Universities."

A panel on "Religious leadership for Safety" will be moderated by L. K. Muller, Omaha dairy executive.

Col. C. J. Sanders, head of the State Safety Patrol, will serve on a panel on "Coordination of State, County, City and Military Traffic Activities."

Meanwhile, the governor canceled plans to fly to Camp Riley, Minn., Wednesday because he was chin deep in work on his traffic safety program. The Camp Ripley ceremonies Wednesday honored former Nebraska Adjutant General Maj. Gen. Guy Henninger.

Khrushchev Makes A West Berlin Offer

. . . Based On Western Troop Pullout

Washington (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has offered secretely to give the West German government control over West Berlin—with guaranteed access—in return for a pullout by the Western powers, it was reported Wednesday.

Informed sources said Khrushchev sent his proposal to President Eisenhower by way of Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother.

The Russian leader, due to visit the United States for meetings with the President next month, reportedly outlined his plan to Dr. Eisenhower during a private talk. The sources said the talk was held while Dr. Eisenhower was in Russia recently with Vice President Nixon.

There was no immediate indication how President Eisenhower reacted to this Khrushchev proposal for a long term solution of the prickly Berlin problem.

Ike Will Listen

He has let it be known in the past he will listen to any new idea Khrushchev may put forward in the issue when they meet face to face in mid-September.

Dr. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University and at times an adviser to his brother, was pictured as favoring the Khrushchev proposal.

Some state department officials were strongly opposed.

4 LADS TO BE RESTORED TO RUSS PARENTS

Chicago (UPI) — A judge ruled Wednesday that 4 little brothers must be restored to their parents in Russia, a land the boys have never seen and whose language they do not speak.

Judge Thomas E. Kluczynski's ruling made it almost inevitable that the 4 Kozmin brothers, who look, act and think like typical American boys, would grow to manhood behind the Iron Curtain.

Kluczynski set Oct. 1 as deadline for delivering the children to their father and mother, George and Nadejda Kozmin, who came to this country as displaced persons and then chose to return to their homeland.

The ruling ended a two-year diplomatic tug-of-war for custody of Richard, 12, George, 11, Paul, 10, and Peter, 3. The boys have lived in a church home for children and in foster homes since their parents left Chicago for Moscow in June, 1957.

Kluczynski said the soviet government reports the Kozmin parents now are mentally, physically and financially able to take care of their children, and that the Russian government guarantees their financial needs will be met.

Grade A Milk Hearing Sept. 21

Lancaster District Judge John Polk set a hearing on a request by 3 Nebraska dairies for an injunction halting enforcement of the state's Grade A only milk laws for Sept. 21.

But Judge Polk enjoined the state from enforcing the laws until the hearing date.

The Lincoln Dairy Co. of Lincoln, the Hebron Dairy of Hebron and the Spring Creek Dairy of Deshler have asked the court here to declare void and unconstitutional state laws which ban the sale of any except Grade A milk. They all produce Grade C milk and allege it is pure and entirely fit for human consumption.

Friday Rites Slated For Crash Victim

Hagaman

Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Friday at the Waverly Methodist Church for David Hagaman, 19-year-old Waverly youth killed in a motorcycle-truck collision at 68th and Fremont Tuesday.

The Rev. Lewis Schultz will officiate, with burial in the Waverly Cemetery.

Hagaman, a copyboy for the Journal-Star Printing Co., was a native of Lincoln and had lived most of his life in Waverly.

He was a member of the Waverly Methodist Church and a 1958 graduate of Waverly High School.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hagaman of Waverly; a brother, Darrell D. of Lincoln; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. King of Bennet and Mrs. Anna Hagaman of Lincoln.

County Atty. Elmer Scheele said Wednesday that there would be no inquest held concerning Hagaman's death.

Feathers Fly In Hold-Up Try

New York (AP)—A millinery factory manager, Louis Charatz, had just returned to the plant from the bank with a $2,600 cash payroll when he felt a hard object against his back.

"Gimme the money!" said a voice.

"Get out of here, ya bum!" said Charatz.

Then Charatz heard a click. Nothing happened. Another click, and still nothing happened. Then a third.

As he turned, he saw the bandit break open his revolver to see what was wrong. All the bullets fell on the floor.

Then Charatz grabbed a bag full of feathers destined for ladies' hats and swatted the gunman over the head with it. The bag broke, and the bandit fled.

He was last seen running down Brooklyn's Flushing Avenue, with green feathers sticking out all over him.

Lauren And Luis

Biarritz, France (AP)—Lauren Bacall, who has an appreciative eye for the bull fighting art, and Luis Miguel Dominguin, Spanish bull ring idol, were seen together frequently here last weekend. Their intimates insist the two are merely friends. At a bull fight at Bayonne on Saturday Dominguin dedicated one of the bulls to Miss Bacall, widow of Humphrey Bogart. Dominguin is married to Lucia Bose, Italian movie actress. She did not accompany her husband to Bayonne.

Youngsters Have A Ball At Exec Club 'Fun Day'

More than 225 youngsters ages 6 to 10 enjoyed "the time of their lives," Wednesday with a trip to the zoo, soda pop, popcorn, rides on the merry-go-round, and all the rest that goes with a "Kids' Fun Day."

Some 60 members of the Lincoln Executive Club entertained the youngsters from Tabitha, Cedars, Whitehall and St. Thomas homes, Malone and Belmont Community Centers, the Salvation Army and from families assisted by the county welfare department.

A special show was presented the youngsters at the Antelope Park Zoo, followed by a parade down O to Capitol Beach. There the youngsters had all the rides, soda pop and popcorn they wanted.

The Climax

The "Fun Day" was climaxed by a picnic supper, prepared and served by the Strategic Air Command 818th Food Service Squadron. The squadron, which is the Executives' adopted unit at LAFB, was chosen as SAC's best to compete for the annual Hennessey Trophy with other commands' top food service squadrons.

According to John Love, president of the business and professional service club, the members enjoy it just as much as the youngsters.

"It makes us feel good and stop to count our blessings," he said.

He added that the Executive Club sponsors the "Kids' Fun Day" in the summer, because so much is done for these youngsters during the school year, particularly at Christmas time.

Chartered Plane Falls; 32 Killed

21 British Students Lose Their Lives

Barcelona, Spain (AP) — Thirty-two persons — most of them British students — were killed Wednesday in the crash of a chartered airliner on a fog-covered mountain peak 25 miles north east of Barcelona. There were no survivors.

The plane was chartered by the British National Union of Students. It smashed into a 2,400-foot peak in the Montseny Mountains 10 minutes after taking off from Prat de Llobregat Airport for London.

Returning Home

Authorities said the passenger list showed 21 of those aboard were British students returning home from vacations in Spain.

Also aboard were 3 crew members — the pilot, co-pilot and stewardess, all British.

Others were a German, two Iranians, an Irishman, 3 Spaniards and a Malayan.

The passengers were said to be between 18 and 23 years old.

Frontier Asks Denver-El Paso Route Addition

Denver — Frontier Airlines has filed an application with the Civil Aeronautics Board to establish a new air route between Denver and El Paso, Tex.

The proposed route would also serve the intermediate cities of Santa Fe, Albuquerque and Alamogordo. The airline's management feels, a Frontier spokesman said, that this Denver-El Paso route best fits into Frontier's presently operated system in the Rocky Mountain southwest area.

Frontier's application would be a part of the new CAB proceeding to be known as the southwestern area local service case.

Gas, Fire Poor Mix, Boys Find

A gasoline can and two young brothers proved an unhappy combination Wednesday when the youths started a fire in the basement of their home at 2901 Williams while playing.

The boys, Steven and Bradley Berkheimer, age 9 and 8, escaped injury when they ran to the home of a neighbor as the blaze started.

Firemen said the house suffered considerable smoke damage although the fire itself was confined to the basement.

At the time of the fire the children's father, Leland J. Berkheimer was at work and their mother was at the hairdresser, according to firemen at the scene.

Latin Demonstrators Cheer Cuba, Toss Tar

Buenos Aires (AP) — Some 400 demonstrators, cheering Cuba and its leader Fidel Castro, threw tar on the building where the U.S. Embassy is situated.

They were later dispersed by police.

The newspaper "La Nacion" said the demonstrators were leftist university students.

Girl Injured

Judy Cook, 12, of 6841 Willow Ave. was treated by a local hospital and released Wednesday afternoon after she suffered back injuries when a car driven by her 20-year-old sister Arlene, sheared off a city light pole at 52nd and Vine. Police estimated that approximately $700 in damage was done to the car.

Douglas County Jail Space Is At A Premium

Omaha (AP) — What happens when the county jail runs out of space?

Sheriff Patrick E. Corrigan was pondering that question Wednesday.

He posted a "no vacancy" sign when the prisoner population reached 340.

Mayor John Rosenblatt has agreed to pardon a few "harmless drunks" to clear out some jail space, the sheriff said, and police are sending only a limited number of prisoners from the city jail.

But the jail remained full.

Corrigan said he is exploring the possibility of transferring excess prisoners serving time for misdemeanors to nearby county jails.

Jail Capt. Arthur Gall produced reports showing the average monthly prisoner count has risen from 208 in January of 1958 to 309 last month.

Brock Criticizes Admirals, Generals For Pressures In Getting Plush Jobs

Washington (AP)—Rep. Larry Brock (D-Neb) said Wednesday many admirals and generals start looking for plush jobs before retirement from military service.

Referring to the case of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who became chairman of the board of Sperry - Rand Corp. after his Army retirement, Brock said in a "newsletter" to constituents:

"This example has been followed by too many of the retired brass and braid. Many of the more recent generation of admirals and generals don't even wait for the usual retirement but light out for the nearest defense establishment offering the most lucrative offer as soon as they have established a military reputation."

Brock said their civilian jobs consist mainly of running interference against the Pentagon in connection with defense contracts. A House Armed Services subcommittee currently is investigating this general subject.

"It is ridiculous to think," Brock said, "that they do not pressure their former buddy officers in the Pentagon, many of whom owe their graduations through the ranks to these retired officers."

Brock said small manufacturers are weeded out of competition by an inability to finance such "expensive and influential representation at the Pentagon." He said this increases the cost of defense contracts.

Miller's Current Interest Concerns His Current Job

Washington (AP) — Former Rep. A. L. Miller said Wednesday "I see no great clamor" that he seek a return to Congress.

A Republican, Miller now is director of the Interior Department's office of saline water. He was defeated last November by Rep. Don McGinley, a Democrat, after 16 years in Congress.

Asked about reports he had been urged to run again next year, Miller said:

"I have been approached by various people wanting to know what my plans are. At present they are to do a good job here.

"I like what I'm doing," he continued. "It's a challenging job which I think will mean a great deal to the world in the years ahead.

"I haven't any particular interest in politics now and I am not sure that I will have."

Park Service:

'Don't Stop Yellowstone Visit Plans'

Omaha (AP) — It's still all right to plan a trip to Yellowstone Park, the Regional Park Service Office in Omaha advised tourists Wednesday.

Park Service officials said they had been flooded with calls from persons who either were planning to go to the park or had some one en route there.

All roads to the park are open except on the west side, a spokesman said. The west entrance is closed as a result of Tuesday's earthquake.

"The concession people in the park have assured us they can provide food and accommodations and there is lodging for visitors in the park," he asserted. Earth and rock slides blocked roads at 4 points in the north and east parts of the park, but travel elsewhere in the park is normal.

Commission For Realtors Hiked

Building Of Nike Missile Sites To Begin In Month

Construction on two Nike-Hercules anti-aircraft missile installations, delayed since July, will start in the Lincoln area within the next 15 to 30 days according to Omaha Corps of Engineers officials.

A contract for work on the two sites totalling $1,809,209.20 was awarded to Beacon Construction Co. of Boston, Mass., Wednesday afternoon and company officials predicted a completion date within 300 days.

Preliminary work in the from of water wells has already been completed at the sites, near Berks and Agnew, by Layne-Western Co. of Omaha. Agnew is 12 miles north and Berks 8 south of Lincoln.

Bids on the project were accepted last June and construction was originally slated to begin in July, but a Congressional controversy on the value of the Nike-Hercules caused the delay.

Beacon will employ approximately 250 workers at the two construction sites when work is in full swing. The contract calls for the construction of 24 buildings, 12 at each site, as well as missile launching pads.

When completed the missile installation will be manned by approximately 300 men from Richards-Gebauer AFB in Grandview, Mo.

Buildings to be constructed at both sites are: administration, mess hall, barracks, assembly and test, generator and control block house.

Beacon was also awarded a contract for work on two Omaha area sites at Louisville and Council Bluffs last week. Amount of the contract was $1,858,211.86.

Marijuana Seized; Ring Is Smashed

Raleigh, N.C. (UPI)—State and federal agents raided farms in tobacco-rich eastern North Carolina Wednesday and smashed a multi-million dollar marijuana growing operation.

Officers seized and burned 1,100 pounds of the narcotic weed which when made into "reefer" cigarettes and sold by pushers in eastern metropolitan centers, is worth up to $1,500 per pound. The marijuana was grown on farms in in the North Carolina coastal plain which produce most of the world's cigarette-type flue-cured tobacco, currently selling at auction markets for about 57c per pound.

Most of the marijuana seized had been harvested, cut and piled in barns, ready for the illegal market.

Agents, investigating the flow of marijuana from North Carolina to New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Washington for the past 5 months, arrested 11 persons, all Negroes. One of those arrested was identified as a rackets figure in Raleigh.

Undercover agents had purchased about 39 pounds of marijuana during the investigation to learn the sources.

FBI LOCATES HEAVY HAUL

Philadelphia (AP) — The FBI has finally found a batch of steel—37,400 pounds of it—which had been missing for more than a month.

The government couldn't figure out where so much steel could be stashed away.

Arnold Berg, 46-year-old trucker, who was charged with concealing it wouldn't talk.

A week ago he was told to start talking or suffer some rough consequences. This was to be the day of reckoning.

An FBI man testified at a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Edward Furia that the steel was located in a warehouse. He didn't say where.

Berg was hired to pick up the steel at a New York pier July 14 and deliver it to the Chesapeake Steel Co. in Wilmington, Del. The government charged that Berg did not make the delivery. Berg claimed the heavy cargo damaged his truck and the company owed him money for an earlier job.

NEGRO HAS GOOD CHANCE OF ELECTION

. . . In Memphis

Memphis, Tenn. (AP) — The hottest municipal campaign in years drew toward a close Wednesday with segregationists fearful a strong bloc vote will elect a Negro to office for the first time in the city's history.

Russell B. Sugarmon Jr., a Harvard-educated Negro attorney, is given an almost even chance of winning the crowded race for public works commissioner.

Sugarmon, 27, is running against 4 white candidates in Thursday's election. He could win by polling a strong Negro bloc vote while his opponents divide the white vote.

There are 187,541 registered voters, of whom 57,109 are Negroes. A record 100,000 vote is forecast.

Four more Negro candidates are running for other city offices, but only Sugarmon is given a strong chance to slip in.

There were 5 white candidates originally in the public works race. But one, City Engineer Will Fowler, was persuaded to withdraw to lessen the vote split and the possibility of Sugarmon's election. Appeals for still others to drop out went unheeded.

Negroes have run for office here before, but none ever came close to winning, or even expected to.

2 Years Given In Narcotics Case

Peter Isenagle of Lincoln was sentenced to a two-year Men's Reformatory term Wednesday in Lancaster District Court on a narcotics charge.

Isenagle, 22, had pleaded guilty before Judge John Polk to having cannabis (marijuana) in his possession Aug. 1. Judge Polk also fined Isenagle $10.

Police said they found the drug in a room at 913 O where Isenagle had been staying. Isenagle is a transient.

Credit Official Charged In Shortages

Criminal charges have been filed against Clarence F. Foster of Ericson, former secretary-treasurer of the Ericson Cooperative Credit Assn. closed recently by the State Banking Department.

E. N. Van Horne, state banking director, said Foster was charged in Wheeler County Court on 11 counts, including 9 counts of false entry, one count of false statements, and one count of embezzlement involving $2,685 in the account for the village of Ericson.

The complaint was filed before Acting County Judge Raymond Pelster by Arthur Auserod, Wheeler County attorney.

Foster pleaded guilty to all counts and waived a preliminary hearing. He was bound over to district court and released on a $2,500 bond.

The irregularities in the association were discovered during an examination by the banking department. Harold Conners, deputy county attorney for Wheeler County, together with state bank examiners, carried on the investigation.

Ericson is in the same county as the Bartlett State Bank, which was closed earlier this year. Criminal actions in the Bartlett case are being handled by the U.S. government since the bank was insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Van Horne said.

The Ericson firm has been ordered liquidated, but the procedure for this has not yet been decided. According to state law, the members of the association may, by a two-thirds vote, handle liquidation by a 3-member committee of their own group, if they so desire.

Life Insurance Death Benefit Payments Down

Nebraska families received $9,225,000 in life insurance death benefits the first half of this year compared to $9,843,000 for the same period last year, the Institute of Life Insurance reported.

This year's payments were 84% greater than those in the corresponding period 10 years ago when the 6-month total was $5 million, the institute said.

The number of policies paid off in Nebraska because of death in the first 6 months this year was 4,498 compared to 4,793 for the first half of last year and 3,137 for the first half of 1949.

Of the total death benefit payments during the first half of this year, $6,535,000 was under 2,399 ordinary policies; $2,304,000 was under 884 group life insurance certificates and $386,000 was under 1,215 industrial policies.

Peanut Bill, Civil Rights Are Joined

Washington (AP)—A move by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) to hook a civil rights bill onto a southern-sponsored peanut measure kicked up a big row in the Senate Wednesday.

A cry of "peanut politics" was raised immediately by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), a chief strategist for Dixie forces fighting civil rights legislation. He represents a peanut-growing state.

Keating offered the administration's whole civil rights program—and more besides—as an amendment to a House-passed bill to exempt boiled peanuts from acreage allotments for another two years.

His purpose, like that of a similar move by Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo) earlier in the week, is to force a showdown in the Senate on civil rights. The aim is to get around the civil rights blockade thrown up in the Senate Judiciary Committee by southern opponents.

Russell caustically told the Senate he was "gratified at the spirit of sweet Christian charity which prompted (Keating) to cull through the calendar and seize upon a bill that affects a few hundred peanut growers in the South."

He added, however, that the people of the section he was proud to represent long have been accustomed to being made the targets for such attacks.

"I have heard a lot about peanut politics in my time but this is one case in which the term seems appropriate," Russell added.

Loiasis, Incurable Disease, Discovered In Canadian Town

Farnham, Que. (AP)—Scientists are trying to discover how many of Farnham's 6,000 residents have been infected with loiasis—a disease never before known in Canada or the United States.

So far, 5 definite cases have been diagnosed. One of the victims is in serious condition.

The disease is usually found in India, parts of Africa, the West Indies, South America and Mexico. It is caused by a parasite usually carried by insects. No cure is known, physicians said.

The disease remains with its victims for life, causing swollen feet and legs, skin inflammation and sometimes pains in the joints. It is not fatal, but its complications may be, physicians said.

Late Rally Cuts Stock Losses

New York (AP) — Stock market prices gave ground again Wednesday although a late rally cut sharp mid-day losses about in half.

Pivotal shares posted final losses running from fractions to a point or more. At the bottom of the slump they had been down two points or better.

Trading interest quickened as prices bounced back. Turnover moved at the swiftest pace in more than a week, totaling 3,030,000 shares against 2,280,000 Tuesday.

All sections of the list joined the comeback. But "space age" issues, in particular, staged a spectacular recovery.

Brokers were hard pressed to explain the sudden reversal. Some thought investors figured the decline had carried many prices to attractive buying levels.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks slipped $1.60 to $227.30, its lowest point since June 26. The industrials dropped $2.60, the rails $1.50 and the utilities 30 cents.

The Dow Jones industrials index, down 9.48 in the afternoon, cut the decline to 4.28 and closed at 646.53.

Of 1,205 issues traded, 759 retreated and 250 advanced. New lows for the year were set by 55 stocks and new highs by 8 stocks.

Eleven of the 15 most actively traded stocks receded while 4 stepped higher.

Corporate bonds eased as trading picked up a bit. U.S. government issues ended unchanged to a shade lower.

Bond sales totaled $6,640,000 par value compared with $4,850,000 Tuesday.

Little Price Shift In Grain Futures

Chicago (AP) — A light scattered demand gave the grain futures market a limited trading range Wednesday but prices never shifted more than major fractions. Transactions on volume still were near the lows of the year with no new guiding commercial influences or incentives in sight.

A small amount of soybeans was sold to Japan and about 350,000 bushels of wheat to Poland.

Soybeans and wheat were ahead as much as major fractions in early dealings but when buying ceased prices fell back.

Other grains drifted along in an almost stationary range. Commercial demand was negligible all around.

With the passing of weather and growing conditions as a major market factor for this year, the trade has said price reactions to other considerations will be sporadic.

Wheat traders are looking forward to the government report, expected within the next few days, on the amount of wheat placed in the government loan since harvest of the 1959 winter crop.

At the close of trading, wheat was ¼-½ cent a bushel higher, September $1.89⅝-¾; corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, September $1.19⅜-½; oats ⅛ higher to ⅜ higher to ⅜ lower, September new type contract 69⅝-¾, rye ¼-⅝ lower, September $1.28¾; soybeans ⅜ higher to ⅛ lower, September $2.03⅞-¾.

Action Seen Thursday On Airport Fund Requests

The State Aeronautics Commission Wednesday deferred action until Thursday on requests from 15 Nebraska communities for some $170,300 in state and $2,439,600 in federal airport funds.

If the Commission approves more projects than it has federal money for, it will automatically have to seek federal discretionary funds instead of the $759,013 federal allocation to the state for each of the next two years.

Once in discretionary funds, which total $15 million for the entire nation, projects are approved by the federal government on a priority basis.

Omaha and Lincoln presented the largest projects to the commission and a Commission spokesman said both had the same priority because of safety factors.

Both asked for state aid and federal aid along with most of the other communities.

Only $100,000

However, state aid will be spread thin. The state only has about $100,000 to allocate.

Lincoln requested $1,513,000 in federal aid alone plus any state aid it could receive.

A 6-member Omaha delegation explained an expansion program at the Omaha Airport designed to equip the field for jet traffic.

In the delegation were Stan M. Michael, engineer; Airport Director Richard E. Mooney and his assistant Barry S. Craig; and Airport Authority members Arthur C. Storz, Peter Kiewit and James B. Moore.

Omaha $2,800,000

The $2,800,000 two-phase program called for $1,320,000 for 1960 and the rest for the following year. They asked for $660,000 in federal aid plus available state aid for the first phase.

The second phase, to equip the field to handle large jets, and planned for 1961 allocations, would require $774,500 in federal aid plus state aid available.

The group told the Commission that Omaha was the only place between Chicago and Denver and Minneapolis and Kansas City that will attract jet traffic in the near future.

Other requests, amounts and members of delegations:

Imperial—seeking $6,500 in federal and $3,250 in state funds for a $13,000 improvement project in 1960 and $30,000 in federal and $15,000 in state for a $60,000 runway resurfacing project in 1961; George Reynolds and Watt Witt.

Kimball—seeking $50,000 in federal and $25,000 in state for a $100,000 runway expansion and surfacing; James Bourette, Jinks Sharps, Marvin Knutsen, Bob Araj, Dale Palser, Walter Woods and James O'Neal.

Ogallala—seeking $18,000 federal and $9,000 state aid for a $36,000 airport acquisition; Dean Davis, Carl Priesner and Jack Carlson.

Alliance—asking $18,000 federal and $9,000 state aid for a $36,000 replacing of runway lights; presented by the Department of Aeronautics at the request of Alliance officials.

The Commission frowned on allocating any money to Alliance until proper maintenance is observed on runways and taxi strips.

Gordon—asking $82,000 federal and $41,000 state funds if the city is certificated for airline service, otherwise $20,000 federal and $10,000 state funds for a smaller $40,000 improvement; Art Britton.

North Platte—asking $11,100 federal and $5,550 state funds for a $22,200 project in replacing a heating plant; John Clinch.

Hemingford—asking $19,000 federal and $9,500 state aid for a $38,000 program for a new air strip; James S. McCafferty.

Grand Island—asking $13,000 federal and $6,500 state aid to light runways in a $26,000 project; Lester I. Lilly, Harold Schuessler and E. W. Keiss.

Cambridge—seeking $20,000 federal and $10,000 state aid in a $40,000 project for a new airport; Edward J. Taylor, Roy Richardson, Jerry Minnick and H. E. Day Jr.

Hastings—asking $33,000 federal and $16,500 state funds for runway extension and other improvements; E. L. Dier, Leslie Boslaugh, William Latta and T. R. Stewart.

Bassett—asking $14,000 in federal and $7,000 in state funds for a $28,000 surfacing of a runway; Richard Mauch, M. B. Huffman and Tom Galleher.

Fairbury—seeking $3,000 in state funds for a $6,000 project to armor coat a runway; Roy L. Schainost and Ivan C. Riley.

Wayne—asking $20,000 federal and $10,000 state funds to pave a runway; B. B. Bornhoft and Donald I. Johnson.

Africans Aware Of National Idea

Africa's traditional tribal loyalty is being supplemented by territorial loyalty, a U.S. State Department official said here.

"Many African people are still basically tribally oriented, but they are increasingly aware of the 'national idea'," said William B. Edmondson, University of Nebraska graduate now a government research specialist on Africa. Edmondson, who attended high school at Peru, Neb., was in Lincoln visiting his wife's parents, Col. and Mrs. Doane Kiechel.

Ghana already is independent and the West African nations of Nigeria, Togoland and the French Cameroons are slated for independence in 1960, he noted.

Frank Morrison Says He'll Be Candidate; Goal Unspecified

Lincoln attorney Frank Morrison announced Wednesday that he will be a candidate for a political office in the 1960 elections, but declined to reveal which post he will seek.

The well-known Nebraska Democrat said he will hold a press conference Sept. 10 at which time he will reveal the post for which he will be a candidate.

There has been considerable speculation that Morrison may toss his hat in the ring for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Republican Carl Curtis.

Could Be Clash

If this should be his choice, it could bring a head-on clash between Morrison and Gov. Ralph Brooks who also is rumored as eyeing the Senate race.

Morrison's statement Wednesday, however, left open the possibility that he might be a candidate for either the governor's chair or the First District congressional post now held by Republican Phil Weaver.

Morrison's last political contest was in 1958 when he lost a bid for the U.S. Senate seat held by Republican Roman Hruska.

In announcing that he would reveal his political plans Sept. 10, Morrison said, "Through the years, I have stood for certain definite things in both Nebraska state and national policies.

'Expression On Issues'

"I feel the people should be given the opportunity to express themselves specifically on some of these issues in the coming election," he commented.

The 54-year-old attorney, who formerly lived at McCook and was once Red Willow County attorney, has been a candidate for the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, and First District congressman, as well as his Senate seat bid. He also was a delegate to the Democratic National Conventions of 1952 and 1956.

Gov. Brooks appointed him this year as a member of the board of directors of Consumers Public Power District. He will be required to resign this post when he seeks political office.

5 From State 8 And 40 To Attend Meet

Five members of the Nebraska Departmental Eight and Forty will represent the state at the national convention Aug. 21-22 in Minneapolis, Minn.

Attending as delegates will be: Mrs. Fred Berckhemer of Ainsworth, past departmental chapeau; Mrs. William Cox of Pierce, Mrs. Arthur Larson of Hastings, Mrs. Edith Davidson of O'Neill and Mrs. Josephine Brennan of Omaha.

Also attending the convention from Nebraska will be Mrs. Arthur Lambourn of Palmyra, a member of the national pouvoir; Mrs. Claude Golding of Lincoln, national l'consierge and Mrs. Matilda Holtorf of Malmo, departmental secretary of Nebraska.

Alternates are Mrs. Josephi Jenny of Malmo, Mrs. A. L. Maier of Norfolk, Mrs. Clara Zastera of Syracuse, and Mrs. Herbert West of Omaha.
